THE LINCOLN STAR

FIFTY-EIGHTH YEAR No. 294 LINCOLN, NEB., THURSDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 8, 1960 SEVEN CENTS

SOLONS ALARMED

...Widen Security Probe

By Fred S. Hoffman

Washington (AP) — A second House committee — alarmed by the defection of two U.S. code specialists — set out Wednesday to find whether the Defense Department and intelligence agencies are vigilant enough in barring security risks from employment.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee announced creation of a 3-man special subcommittee to look into the methods by which the Pentagon and the Central Intelligence Agency "recruit, screen, re-screen and clear their personnel."

There were these other developments stemming from the defection to Russia of Bernon F. Mitchell and William H. Martin, for the past 3 years mathematical analysts with the super-secret National Security Agency:

—Chairman Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said President Eisenhower has refused to supply him with the names of more than 1,000 persons rehired after once being fired as security risks.

Walter — whose committee will open hearings on the Mitchell-Martin case on Sept. 16—said that by repeated refusals since January Eisenhower "has made it abundantly clear he doesn't want to co-operate."

The Walter committee is interested in the names of federal employes taken back after a Supreme Court decision which dealt with non-sensitive jobs.

—Eisenhower told his news conference the defection of the two code clerks "shows that we must be always on the alert, very alert." He said, too, "I would think we must go through our entire procedures" for keeping security risks out of sensitive jobs "to see if there is any one way we could better it."

Sensitive jobs are those in such agencies as the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission. A typical non-sensitive job might be a letter carrier.

Nixon Agrees

—Vice President Nixon, the Republican candidate for President, was reported by his spokesman as in agreement with Eisenhower that the administration should make a thorough investigation of the case.

At the same time, Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said he didn't think the incident would prove a serious liability to Nixon in the campaign against Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy.

—In a formal statement, the Justice Department described as erroneous reports that the FBI furnished unfavorable information on Mitchell and Martin to the Defense Department before the two men were hired in 1957 by the NSA, an arm of the Pentagon.

"The pre-employment investigation was conducted by the Department of Defense and not by the FBI," the Justice Department said.

Walter said Tuesday he understood the FBI had informed NSA before Mitchell and Martin were hired that one of them was a homosexual. Walter did not identify which of the two he meant.

—Pressed by newsmen, a Defense Department spokesman said "I am informed there is not" anything in the personnel record of either Mitchell or Martin indicating homosexuality.

Without naming either, the Pentagon said Tuesday one of the pair was mentally sick.

Homosexual tendencies or mental instability would be enough to class a person as a security risk, as would any communist connections.

—Announcing plans for the hearings starting Sept. 16, Walter said his committee also would consider the recent defection to Russia of Vladimir Sloboda, a Polish-born Army Intelligence sergeant who vanished from Frankfurt, Germany.

Purple Ribbon Sheep Get Record Price At '60 Fair

. . . GOLDS OF LINCOLN PAYS 61 CENTS PER POUND FOR BEST

By Del Harding

Gold & Co. of Lincoln paid a record 61c a pound for the purple ribbon offering of sheep in the highlight of the State Fair Wednesday.

The price for the 7 sheep in the top group compared with the 32½c a pound paid for the purple ribbon sheep last year and with Wednesday's Omaha market top of 19c a pound.

Golds also bought the 3 purple ribbon swine up for sale for 33c a pound.

Fair Board Secretary Ed Schultz declined to give a firm attendance estimate but said the crowd during the day was below last year's Wednesday total of 34,000.

Schultz, however, said he hopes a check of the figures after attendance at the evening Pat Boone show is included will bring the total up to the figure of last year.

The purple ribbon lambs bought by Golds were turned over to the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture for use in class work. It was the 20th time Golds had bought the top sheep.

Fred Ricenbaw of Friend and Paul Plate of North Loup each had two sheep in the top 7. The other 3 sheep belonged to Sharon Pohlman of Hickman, Steve Eberspacher of Seward and Robbie Ahlschwede of Crete.

Owners of the top swine were Fred McGuire of Wisner, Darlow Mencke of Kennard and Sandra Stork of Tekamah.

Another major 4-H event was the annual style revue at which 32 girls were awarded purple ribbons.

Duane Buss of Hastings won the 4-H tractor driving contest.

In FFA beef breeding results, Ernie Kuhlmann of North Platte had the champion junior herd and champion Hereford. John Votaw Jr. of Curtis showed the champion Angus and also took showmanship contest honors.

James Greer of Waverly showed both the champion and reserve champion Shorthorns and North Platte took the beef breeding chapter award.

In Open Class results, Staley Farms of Liberty, Mo., showed the senior and grand champion Angus bull and the junior and grand champion female was exhibited by Eiltonier Angus Farms of Tipton, Ia.

J. B. and Joan Kunkel of Nixa, Mo., had the senior and grand champion Jersey bull and Robert Nauman of Lincoln had the senior and grand champion female.

Vernon Huenke of Wilber showed the senior and grand champion Brown Swiss bull and Stanley Johnson of Oakland had the senior and grand champion female.

TOPS IN HOME-MADE STYLE

Martha Ulbrick of Hooper displays her dress at the annual 4-H style revue at the State Fair. She was in the summer dress-up clothes section and had won a purple for this creation. (Story and winner's list on Page 12) (Star Photo)

U.S. Suddenly Gets Tougher

By John Scali

Washington (AP) —President Eisenhower suddenly has toughened U.S. policy toward Russia only 12 days before Nikita S. Khrushchev arrives for what promises to be a spectacular visit to the United Nations.

In two surprise moves at his news conference, Eisenhower Wednesday in effect:

1. Warned the Soviet Premier that the United States will not stand by while Russia seizes control of the Congo government under the guise of helping the U.N. restore order.

2. Slammed the White House door in Khrushchev's face until the Soviet leader makes concessions—such as freeing imprisoned American fliers — to prove the Russian genuinely wants an easing of tensions. There is no sign Khrushchev will do anything of the kind.

Far Reaching

These words by Eisenhower add up to a far reaching cold war move—one that may sharpen tensions with Russia in the pre-election months ahead.

They clearly foreshadow a more active U.S. role within the United Nations to meet Russia's challenge.

If Eisenhower means what he said—and there is no sign he is bluffing—it could conceivably wind up with American troops being sent into the Congo as part of the U.N. police force.

Eisenhower previously has rejected any thought of including military forces from Russia, this country or any major power along with the 17,000-man U.N. unit rushed into the Congo. This was based on the hope of keeping the Congo out of the cold war.

Question

But there was a question whether the United States can cling to this attitude now that Russia has moved more than 200 "technicians" into the Congo, along with trucks, some 20 planes, and some weapons.

No administration leader seems to have made up his mind yet on what the American response should be if Russia continues to pour men and supplies into the Congo.

Eisenhower's moves show he is now, perhaps belatedly, facing up to the grim realities of the Congo crisis as well as the big stakes involved—control of central Africa.

A question only history can answer is this: Is it already too late?

Until Eisenhower spoke out Wednesday, there were definite signs the U.S. government was hesitating on how to handle Russia's conniving in the Congo.

Having once dumped the problem into the lap of the United Nations, top officials looked to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to handle everything.

Gangs Dispersed At Fairgrounds

The crowd-dispersing efforts late Wedneday of Lancaster County sheriff's deputies, aided by Lincoln police, prevented an outbreak of gang fighting at the State Fairgrounds.

A sheriff's patrol spokesman said more than 50 Lincoln youths were preparing to start a gang fight with fair midway workers.

But, he added, a concentrated effort of lawmen blanketed the fairgrounds and resulted in herding the local teen-agers off "in droves."

A few individual fights ensued but they did not get out of hand.

Early Thursday, no arrests had been made and the fairgrounds was reported quiet once more.

'No Change' In Brooks Condition

There was "no measureable change" Wednesday evening in the condition of Gov. Ralph Brooks who is still listed as "serious" at Lincoln General Hospital.

That was the report relayed by Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Brooks, after a visit with the governor and his physician at the hospital.

The dates for the 1961 State Fair will be Sept. 2 through Sept. 8.

Fair Board Secretary Ed Schultz said the dates were set at a meeting Wednesday of fair board officials.

Power Failure Darkens Downtown

By Charles Beal

All of a sudden, everything was blackness.

Elevators stopped midway between floors isolating their riders.

Escalators came to a jarring halt, causing store patrons to grasp for the railings in order to keep their balance.

Refrigerators and air-conditioners ceased to function.

This was the scene in downtown Lincoln early Wednesday afternoon as most of the power supply forthe downtown area and the western side of the capital city failed.

But, store patrons remained calm and everything went off relatively smoothly, according to merchants.

A Consumers Public Power District spokesman said the 30-minute break (largely intermittent over a one-hour period, was initially caused by a break in a 34,500-volt line near the Nebraska Public Power System's West Lincoln substation.

'Chain Reaction'

"It set off sort of a chain reaction," he explained. "When the line dropped, the load on the second 34,500-volt line caused circuit-breakers to open. As the load built up, a 115,000-volt line was also opened."

He said an insulator failure caused the line to drop to the ground, but the cause was not immediately determined.

Firemen extinguished a grass fire caused by the dropped high-voltage line.

City Light Department lines were not affected by the NPPS power break except for a few "bumps," according to the Consumers engineer.

Widespread

Dale Renner, CPPD district supervisor in Lincoln, said that the blackout was confined mostly to the area west of 40th, although there were reports of power failure in Eastridge.

Areas in north Lincoln were temporarily blacked out, he said when State Fair facilities were switched over to the substation at 84th and Leighton which provides power to east Lincoln.

Lincoln hospitals reported that "no complications" arose during the power failure, although the broken current did cause extra maintenance in re-setting clocks and electrically timed instruments.

All hospitals are equipped with emergency auxiliary power units in case of an extended power delay.

Elevator riders were stalled between floors as long as 5 minutes, it was reported.

Police Radio Out

The two-way radio at the Lincoln Police Station was out of service for about 5 minutes, but communication was immediately re-established on an alternate power source, officials said.

Battery operated emergency lighting systems were quickly put into operation, providing dim illumination to the most-used aisles in Lincoln stores.

Small groups of customers clustered at points throughout the stores but, with the exception of a barrage of questions to each other, the atmosphere was one of calm waiting.

Bank clerks, whose electric adding machines were silent, scribbled out receipts by hand in the dark.

Most merchants agreed that the power failure provided a "perfect opportunity" for shoplifting but that it was virtually impossible for clerks to keep watch everywhere during the blackout and that losses, if any, could only be determined after inventory.

No Fooling! It's Cooling

It will be cooler in Nebraska Thursday with temperatures between 70 and 85 degrees.

Partly cloudy skies with scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast for the state by the weatherman.

Cooler readings will reach the east Thursday night.

North Platte, Burwell and Sidney reported traces of rain while Valentine reported .40; Scottsbluff .17; Chadron .05; Alliance .02.

The state's high of 96 degrees Wednesday was reported at McCook.

The low was 57 at Imperial.

'Bottom' Proposal Offered

COULD FINISH PRR STRIKE

Philadelphia (AP)—Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, Wednesday offered "rock bottom" proposals which he said could end the 7-day-old Pennsylvania Railroad strike "in 24 hours, if the company is in the mood."

Speaking for the TWU and the System Federation, the two striking unions whose 20,000 workers have shut down the railroad for the first time in its 114-year history, Quill put the burden for settlement on the railroad.

"It is up to the company to meet and accept the proposals," he said at a press conference. "If they want to sit it out, the union also can sit it out."

Will Pack

If the railroad does not accept the proposals, Quill said, the top union officers will pack up and leave Thursday."

He said he would return to New York to conduct the strike from his headquarters there, and would also tour striking locals, beginning perhaps Thursday night with a trip to Pittsburgh.

However, he added that his departure and that of other top union leaders would not mean the end of negotiations between the 5-man teams which have been meeting with Francis A. O'Neill Jr., chairman of the National (railway) Mediation Board. He added that union negotiators would have full authority to negotiate an agreement to end the strike.

Not Just 4

Quill said the proposals cover "a number of the important issues," not just the 4 the company has been saying are the only ones left unsettled.

James M. Symes, board chairman of the railroad, and Allen J. Greenough, railroad president, have said 23 of 27 issues involved have been tentatively settled.

"In this situation there's nothing tentative," Quill said.

–Lieutenant Governor Nomination–

Dosek Successor Meeting Saturday

Otto Seen As Likely Choice After Demo Withdraws From Race

By Don Walton

The 86-member Democratic state central committee will name its new candidate for lieutenant governor at a special meeting in Lincoln Saturday.

The session was called for 2 p.m. at the Cornhusker Hotel by State Chairman Russell Hanson of Newcastle

State Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney appears to be the likely choice for Democratic nominee to the state's second highest office.

Also mentioned as a possible candidate was State Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora.

Speculation on the Democratic action followed the withdrawal Wednesday of Edward A. Dosek of Lincoln.

Republican Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney is the GOP nominee for a 3rd consecutive term.

Dosek, whose insurance license was revoked last week, filed his declination of nomination with the secretary of state's office.

Health, 'Findings'

Dosek's declination gave as reasons his health and "certain findings and conclusions" entered by "an administrative officer," referring to State Insurance Director William Grubbs.

The party must file with the secretary of state the name of a new candidate by Monday at 5 p.m.

Dosek Otto

Otto, 41-year-old 3-term state senator, ran second to Dosek in a 4-man Democratic race last May.

The senator, a building contractor, is also chairman of a statewide Democratic registration drive.

Khrushchev Will Arrive In New York Sept. 19

Growing Congo Unrest Blamed On Russia By Ike

By Donald May

Washington (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will arrive in New York Sept. 19 aboard Russia's fanciest passenger liner to attend the United Nations General Assembly session.

Plans for the premier's arrival were given to the State Department Wednesday by Russian Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov who brushed aside newsmen seeking to learn how long Khrushchev would stay.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White told reporters, however, that he knew of no plans for Khrushchev to visit Washington or make any other side trips in the United States.

Menshikov's note said that the Soviet leader would travel to New York aboard the 7,494-ton "Baltika," flagship of the Soviet passenger fleet which normally operates scheduled runs between London and Leningrad via the English Channel, North Sea and Baltic Sea.

Heading the Soviet U.N. delegation, Khrushchev will arrive on the eve of the opening of the General Assembly which he is trying to turn into a Summit meeting that the West does not want.

By Douglas B. Cornell

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower vigorously prodded Soviet Russia Wednesday to stop sending planes and other equipment for military purposes into the seething Congo.

Russia, the President said, seems to be motivated by political designs in Africa. He said the Soviet action is "aggravating an already serious situation which finds Africans killing other Africans" and that the United States deplores and takes a most serious view of it.

Eisenhower therefore urged the Soviet Union "to desist from its unilateral activities and to lend its support instead to the practice of collective effort through the United Nations" to bring a peaceful solution.

Full Support Assured

Then, at a news conference, the chief executive added that the United States intends to support whatever steps the United Nations finds necessary to keep peace in the Congo. This could be interpreted as an intention to go all the way with the United Nations, even to the extent of sending U.S. troops to the Congo if the international organization asks for them.

Matters of world concern dominated the news conference, rather than such domestic affairs as politics and Congress.

But Eisenhower did say he hoped the religious issue in the Presidential campaign—Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic—"could be laid on the shelf and forgotten until after the election is over." Certainly no Republican has come to him and said he believes the party should use religion as an issue, the President told a questioner.

He Feels No Prejudice

"I not only don't believe in voicing prejudice," Eisenhower said, "I want to assure you I feel none."

He said he is sure Vice President Nixon, the Republican presidential candidate, feels exactly the same. This was by way of a polite comeback to former President Truman, who said of Nixon in a Labor Day speech at Marion, Ind.:

"While he stands at the front door proclaiming charity and tolerance, his supporters are herding the forces of racial, religious and anti-union bigotry in by way of the back door. And no one will ever make me believe he is not smart enough to know what is going on."

Nixon, too, has said he will never raise religion as a campaign issue.

As for the short session of Congress just concluded, Eisenhower said its record was "such as to cause some disappointment, if not dismay, throughout the American nation."

Soviet Military Leaders Get New Responsibility

Moscow (AP)—Soviet military commanders are being made responsible for political as well as military training of their men.

New regulations announced by Marshal Andrei A. Grechko Wednesday stress the principle of one-man command. There is no mention of the role of political commissars who have long guided Russian Army and Navy units along the Communist Party line.

Grechko said, however, the regulations reflect demands of the party's Central Committee "concerning intensification of party political and educational work with personnel of the Army and Navy." That suggests more rather than less stress on the subject.

Grechko disclosed the new regulations, supplanting rules adopted in 1946, in the military newspaper Red Star.

Lincolnite Captures Gold Medal

Connie Carlson of Lincoln won top honors and a gold medal in the 4-H meats identification judging contest at the State Fair. Miss Carlson scored 225 out of a possible 234 points. The Lancaster County team, of which she was a member, placed second in team competition, behind Dawson County.

'Anti-Parasite' Drive Launched In Russia

. . . Aimed At 'Idlers, Hooligans, Drones'

Moscow (UPI) — An "anti-parasite" campaign was in full swing in Russia today, aimed at the "idlers, hooligans and drones" who refuse to work.

Georgia became the latest of the Soviet republics to pass "anti-parasite" laws, providing banishment or prison terms for able-bodied persons who cannot claim an honest living.

The laws are aimed at idle sons and daughters of the rich, as well as the delinquents—"Spivs" and "Teddy Boys" — who spend their time loitering on street corners.

Can Be Banished

Under terms of the Republic of Georgia law, municipalities, acting on complaints from trade unions and other public organizations, can banish idlers to small villages for terms of from 6 months to two years.

If, during that period, the offenders still refuse to do 'socially useful labor," they face imprisonment for the same period.

Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia have passed similar laws. So far the Russian Republic, of which Moscow is the capital, has not adopted any anti-laziness measures, but the Moscow press is filled daily with articles and editorials exposing work-shy youths and beatniks.

Navy Claims Speed Record

. . . For Closed Course

Los Angeles (AP) — The Navy Wednesday claimed a world closed course speed record of 1,216.78 miles an hour for its fighter, the F4H1 Phantom II.

The record flight was made by Marine Lt. Col. Thomas H. Miller, 37, of George West, Tex., at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., over a 310-mile triangular course.

If recognized by the International Aeronautics Federation in Paris, the record will exceed by more than 400mph th current mark of 816.3mph. This was set April 1959, by Air Force Capt. George A. Edwards Jr., in an RF101 Voodoo.

Vice Adm. Clarence E. Ekstrom, commander of the Pacific Fleet Air Force, gave Miller his third Distinguished Flying Cross in a plane-side ceremony after Miller flew here from Edwards AFB.

Miller was greeted on his arrival by his wife, the former Ida Mai Giddings of Topeka, Kan. they have a son and two daughters.

NOBODY FIRED IN AFRICA

Leopoldville, The Congo (AP) —The Congo's national assembly decided in a table-thumping, 6-hour debate Wednesday that both President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba should keep their jobs.

The issue of Communist infiltration went unresolved, but Lumumba told the assembly he had turned to the Russians for help because "we were refused aid by the United Nations and the United States, which support our enemies."

Seeking to stem a government feud that racked the nation, deputies voted 60-19 to void both the conservative president's dismissal of the left-leaning premier and the premier's order ousting the president.

This threw the conflict right back where it was before Kasavubu announced in a dramatic broadcast over radio Leopoldville Monday night that he was dismissing Lumumba to check the Congo's drift toward chaos and communism.

Lumumba, himself a deputy, voted smiling with the majority.

The lanky, 34-year-old government chief, who has turned to the Soviet bloc for arms, transport and technical help, answered anti-Communist speeches by other members with the shouted declaration: "I have never been nor will be a Communist."

6 Badly Injured In Head-On Crash Near Lexington

Lexington (AP) — Six persons were hospitalized in serious condition Wednesday afternoon after a head-on collision 4 miles west of Lexington on U.S. 30.

In serious condition at a Lexington hospital were Ross A. Thevdnot, 27, his wife and two sons aged 2 and 4 of Ontario, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sieber of Long Island, New York.

The collision tied up traffic for about an hour and a half. Sgt. Lee Oberg, Gothenburg, of the Nebraska Safety Patrol, investigated.

Kearney that he "would want to think about" the possibility of entering the race if the central committee appeared to want him.

However, he said that if he were chosen and accepted, "I would run to the best of my ability."

'Voice For Morrison'

Meanwhile, in Lincoln, Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Gov. Ralph Brooks, said that Frank Morrison, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, "should be given a prominent voice in the selection of his running mate."

Conrad said he was "confident" that Morrison would select a person" with legislative background and experience in order to steer his forward-looking program for Nebraska through the next Legislature."

Dosek, who has won the lieutenant governor nomination 3 times, said in a statement:

"I recognize now my responsibilities to my business and exhausted physical condition might preclude me from waging an active campaign.

"I recognize further that an administrative officer has entered certain findings and conclusions that perhaps reflect upon me.

". . . and, while I am perfectly willing to submit my actions for scrutiny by an impartial and impersonal tribunal, neither my party nor its candidates should bear any onus that may be directed against me.

"I am exceedingly grateful for the vote and support which I had received and it might be that at some future date, I may again submit my name and cause to the electorate."

Weather Big Factor In Mosquito-Killing Plans

Weather remained the only unsettled factor in the fight against swarms of mosquitoes plaguing parts of Lincoln and the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Bill Kite, Arrow Airport owner who was authorized by the Lancaster County Board to spray the infested areas north and west of the city, said that a landing strip site has been selected.

The spraying plane will use a portion of the Interstate Highway fill located in the drained basin of Salt Lake as a set-down spot to refill its sprayer with DDT-kerosene solution.

Spraying Plans

Plans are to begin the spraying in the early morning on the first day that winds are averaging less than 10 m.p.h. Rain would also forestall spraying plans because it would lessen the effectiveness of the spray in killing the mosquitoes.

Funds for the spraying have been promised by the county from general funds. The spraying costs are $1 per acre, plus cost of spray.

It is estimated that about 2,000 acres of breeding grounds and infested areas will have to be sprayed to cut down the mosquito menace which has hit West Lincoln, the Lakeview area and north to Belmont and the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Lancaster, Seward Redistricting Gets Approval

Seward — Reorganization of parts of two school districts in Lancaster County and one in Seward County was signed into order after the proposal was unopposed at a public hearing at the Seward County Courthouse here Wednesday afternoon.

The reorganization will result in 240 acres of land in Lancaster County becoming part of the Milford school district in Seward County and 400 acres in the Seward district being annexed to Lancaster County's Malcolm school district.

The reorganization was asked by voters in the two districts, who contended that it would result in shorter distances for youngsters to go to school.

Canadian Given Call To Nebraska Churches

Holdrege (AP)— The Rev. David Minton, Crapaud, Prince Edward Island, Canada, has been issued the call to serve St. Elizabeth's Episcopal Church here. Rev. Mr. Minton is a British Army veteran of World War II and served in the Burma-India theater. If accepted, the call will be effective in about 90 days. He would serve the Holdrege and Arapahoe churches.

Power Dispute Dissolved

Consumers, Norris Now In Agreement

Consumers and Norris Public Power District Wednesday announced settlement of their long-standing dispute on the problem of supplying electric power to the city of Beatrice.

In revealing terms of the agreement, the two public power agencies made a significant statement designed to replace disagreement with cooperation.

"Both parties support the principle that public power districts should not conflict with each other," the joint statement read.

"And, they expect to develop a set of rules and policies which will recognize this principle in future dealings between Consumers and Norris."

Under terms of the power settlement, Norris has sold to Consumers its transmission lines which presently serve Beatrice.

Consumers will use them in serving the city beginning Sept. 10, 1960, under a 5-year contract recently signed with the city.

Further, a settlement has been reached on all pending lawsuits which have an effect upon the Beatrice situation, including two appeals now pending before the State Supreme Court, the announcement said.

"All such lawsuits and appeals will be dismissed by the districts and they will engage in no further litigation concerning the Beatrice controversy," the statement continued.

Under the agreement, Norris (with Consumers approval) proposes a charter amendment which would expand Norris' charter so that it will no longer be limited to serving "rural inhabitants."

Such an amendment would include the principle that Norris will not conflict with other public power districts.

The Beatrice dispute began when the city dropped Consumers as its power supplier and contracted to receive its electric power from Norris.

Court action followed, and the State Supreme Court ruled that Norris, being rural in character, could not supply power to the Beatrice municipality.

Norris then took action to drop the word "rural" from its name and eliminate charter restrictions confining it to rural operations.

Litigation and appeals followed.

Wednesday's announcement was made by Lester Trussell, Norris general manager, and Ray Schacht, Consumers general manager.

Board approval for the agreement has been obtained from both Norris and Consumers.

"We . . . believe that the support given by these districts to the principle of avoiding conflicts may show the way for settling public power problems throughout the state," the announcement concluded.

Youth With Desire To Help Others Wins Purple Ribbon

A fun loving youth with a sincere desire to help others have fun demonstrated his skills at the Nebraska State Fair and won a purple ribbon. Kurt Payne of Edison gave a novel 4-H demonstration which he called, "Fun for Free."

Kurt showed how to make and use homemade games. His interest in games resulted from his activities at 4-H Club Week and Conservation Camps. In 1959 he was a delegate to a co-op youth camp in Kansas City where he furthered this interest.

Fun is the by-word whenever Kurt is in a group. He is recreation leader in his 4-H club and uses his games with the Sunday school class he teaches. He keeps his younger brothers and sister entertained at home with his creative gimmiks.

"My next project is to learn to call square dances," says Kurt.

Kurt's talents lean toward a serious side too. He has won the District Timely Topic Public Speaking contest for the past two years and competed in the state contest.

"Next year I'll have to compete against my 13-year old brother, Scott, and he's pretty good," quipped Kurt.

Now a senior in Beaver City High School, Kurt says he plans to go to college. His long range plans are to work with his father in the farm implement business.

Woman Hurt In Accident; Policeman Follows Suit

A Lincoln woman was hospitalized after a two-car crash at 21st and Y Wednesday evening and the investigating policeman was injured afterwards when his motorcycle flipped.

Mrs. Anna A. Corbett, 73, of 5516 Pioneers Blvd., was reported in fair condition late Wednesday at Lincoln General Hospital.

Officer Donald Starr was thrown off his two-wheeler about 75 feet west of the car accident scene.

His minor injuries were treated at Lincoln General after he rode the damaged motorcycle back to police headquarters.

Heading North

Police said Mrs. Corbett was headed north on 21st when her car was in collision with an eastbound car driven by James D. Peniska, 21, of 1004 Nance.

The wreck hampered traffic more than a half hour.

After the scene was cleared, Officer Starr started west on Y, headed for the station.

He said his motorcycle was still in first gear when the two tires caught in the 4-inch wide depression alongside one track of a railroad siding.

The motorcycle flipped over on its right side, throwing Starr clear, went down the street, jumped a curb and struck a power pole.

Sent Sprawling

Starr was sent sprawling on his right side.

He suffered abrasions on his lower right arm, a cut left ring fingertip and a large bruise on his right thigh. His uniform was torn in several spots.

The motorcycle's damage consisted of a broken windshield and light, bent front fork and fender.

State Board Of Education Plan Favored

Hemingford (AP) — The Western Nebraska United Chambers of Commerce passed resolutions on education and park development.

The association went on record as favoring retention of the State Board of Education and appointment by the board of the state commissioner of education. A proposal to return to the old system of electing the state superintendent of education will be on the November ballot.

Also passed was a resolution favoring increasing the special levy for parks and tourist attraction from .13 mill to .35 mill per $1,000 tax valuation.

There was a discussion of the proposed State Chamber of Commerce but the feeling of the meeting, attended by some 300 persons was that the group should keep its identity.

The directors decided to meet at Mullen Oct. 13 at which time the date for the next general meeting in November will be set. New officers will be named at the November gathering.

Gen. Power Getting His Annual Checkup

Omaha (AP) — Gen. Thomas S. Power, chief of the Strategic Air Command has entered Lackland Air Force Base hospital at San Antonio, Tex., for his annual physical checkup, his headquarters reported Wednesday. He will return to the Omaha headquarters Friday, Sept. 9.

Towboat Cuts Gas Pipeline; No One Hurt

Plattsmouth (AP)—A propeller of a St Louis-bound towboat cut into a natural gas pipeline under the Missouri River Wednesday and the force of pressure shot the towboat 6 feet into the air. No one was hurt.

Sheriff Tom Solomon said the Lachan McClay, a federal barge lines towboat hauling a barge of rock, cut the line just south of Plattsmouth. The pressure moved the towboat about 20 feet.

The line, owned by the Natural Gas and Pipeline Co. of America, is one of about 10 lines under the river in the Plattsmouth area.

Nebraskan May Get Key Interior Post

Washington (AP) — Roger C. Ernst, an assistant secretary of the interior, has resigned to return to Phoenix, Ariz., informed sources said.

George W. Abbott, now Interior Department solicitor, was reported in line to succeed Ernst.

Both the resignation of Ernst and the appointment of his successor will be announced by the White House. The position is filled by presidential appointment subject to Senate confirmation.

Abbott, from Grand Island, Neb., has been solicitor since Nov. 3, 1958.

Both the assistant secretary and the solicitor receive $20,000 annually.

Lyndon Johnson ComingToOmaha

Omaha (AP) — Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic nominee for vice president, will speak in Omaha Sept. 21 at the Live Stock Exchange.

Also speaking at the dinner will be Gerald Whalen, candidate for Congress from the First District.

Sponsoring the dinner will be the Douglas County Democratic Central Committee and the County Democratic Club.

G. R. Whitney, 59, Humboldt, Dies

Omaha (AP) — George R. Whitney, 59, owner of a Humboldt transfer company, died in an Omaha hospital following a long illness.

He founded the Whitney Transfer Co., of Humboldt and later bought the Chieftain Van and Storage Co., of Council Bluffs, Ia.

School Post Goes To Patrick

Fairbury — Lewis Patrick, principal of Fairbury High School for the past 3 years, has been named superintendent of the public school system and president of Fairbury College.

He succeeds F. Don Maclay, who leaves Oct. 31 to head the Norfolk school system.

Patrick, who has served 6 Nebraska towns in over 20 years of teaching, was signed to a 3-year contract. A new principal will be named later.

Joining the Fairbury faculty in 1951, Patrick is a 1938 graduate of Dana College. He has a master's degree from the University of Nebraska and has taken advance work at NU and the University of Denver.

He previously taught at Winside, Uehling, Oakland, Dawson and Reynolds.

Actress To Wed

Hollywood (AP)—Actress Lori Nelson, 24, and composer-conductor Johnny Mann, 32, announced their engagement and said they will be married as soon as possible.

Christian School To Open Monday

The Lincoln Christian School, 5240 Normal Blvd., a private, interdenominational Christian day school, will open Monday, according to Harold B. Warkentin, principal.

The school, which has an enrollment of some 30 students, ranging from kindergarten through 7th grade, will maintain the same vacation schedule as the Lincoln Public Schools. The school day will be from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. each day for grades one through 7, and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays for the kindergarten.

'Bribe Of Sorts' Fails To Sway Devotion To Duty

A Lincoln police officer was offered a bribe of sorts while arresting a 35-year-old woman but he came through with flying colors.

The officer was transporting the woman to Police Headquarters for questioning when she began to "play up to him" and try to persuade him to let her go. Finally after she had made no progress with the officer in a last desperate effort she ripped open her blouse and exposed her bosom to the officer.

The officer's reaction, according to the police report of the incident:

"Officer 'Blank' resolutely kept his eyes on the road and drove the woman to headquarters."

$677,000 Set In Sewage Aid To State

Nebraska will receive $677,575 in federal funds during fiscal 1961 to help build sewage treatment plants, T. A. Filipi, state sanitary engineer, said Wednesday.

Filipi, notified by telephone amount was about as much as could have been expected.

"I'm ready to rejoice," he commented.

The funds will be enough to cover all the eligible applicants for fiscal 1961 funds, he said. There were 14 applications on file, he said, but it would have to be determined which of those were eligible.

He also said the grant would probably be enough to cover the supplementary requests by several towns, although it would be up to the state water pollution control committee to decide on priorities.

The Known And Unknown

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Sen. John F. Kennedy has issued a stern challenge to the American people — part of which lies well within our grasp and part of which contains an element of uncertainty. Speaking at Seattle, Wash., Kennedy spoke a language that the Pacific Northwest understands. He spoke of being first and in any domestic comparison that is where the Oregonians and Washingtonians want to be and believe they are.

Washington, with fantastically low power rates, an abundance of water, stately mountains, peaceful valleys and a nearly ideal climate, is a good place in which to speak of being first.

The Only Other Alternative

But the senator did not travel nearly 3,000 miles from Massachusetts to talk about the weather or other resources and attractions of the state of Washington. He was talking, of course, about the nation which is greater among its peers than is any one of the 50 states among its sisters. Kennedy can see only one alternative for democracy and that is total and complete supremacy over competing ideologies.

Any understanding of communism could lead to no other conclusion. The only way there can ever be peaceful coexistence, even, is if the forces of the free world—democracy — have an overpowering superiority over communism. And this must be a superiority in every area of national effort — defense, economics, education, etc.

This is essential because it is the only way in which we can expect to obtain the respect needed from communism to build a peaceful foundation on which the world can stand. This means that in any meeting or conflict with the Soviet Union and its satellites, we must be prepared to excel. We must be able to bury their threats with force and their cunning with ability and intelligence.

These things are within our grasp. We can become the strongest nation on the earth and we can provide enlightened leadership but only if we are dedicated to such ends. These are not things which will come our way by wishing or by leaving it up to chance. World developments of the past decade should have convinced us of this. We took our technological superiority for granted and soon discovered, to our dismay, that we were no better than equal to and possibly behind Russia.

We have taken our economic growth for granted and are finding out that it, too, is lagging behind the father of the communistic states. We have taken for granted the merits of democracy and found that it has been trampled in the dust by other nations. Nations we have assumed to be safely in the fold of the free world have gone astray toward communism, socialism and other political forms. Whether we like it or not, when the U.S. falters in these areas, the whole cause of freedom falters.

There simply is no other defender of the democratic system that has the potential that is required to deal with communism. This is not to say that we can stand alone in the world but it does mean that no other member of the western family of nations can long stand without us. The day the United States is conquered, Russia has won the final victory.

The unknown aspects of Kennedy's remarks can be found in his statement that "the only way we can get his (Khrushchev's) agreement to disarm is by our strength — enough to stop the next war before it starts." Obviously, we need something more than strength because communism was certainly not born the power it is today.

It was born and grew as a minority movement in all respects, and so could be expected to continue to wield an influence even as a force clearly second to democracy. Once we are possessed of essential strength, we must then consider what we intend to do with it. What is it we intend to tell Mr. Khrushchev and the rest of communism when we feel they are at our mercy? We must be guided by humanitarian concepts, and yet, deal with an adversary which knows no moral or Christian limitations. What sort of a showdown will it be with communism and when and how will it come?

Our Course Of Action

These are questions of the future, to be sure, but their answers should be at least a tentative part of any new national goals. And they promise to be every bit as challenging as the accomplishments which must precede them. In truth, the rest of our efforts would be an exercise in futility without these questions answered.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

To Your Good Health

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have osteo-arthritis in the upper part of my spine, with calcium deposits in the left chest and intercostal neuralgia. Will diet help, or will certain foods aggravate the condition? M.N."

Dr. Molner

I sometimes wonder if we are more or less happy since we have come to talk about "osteo-arthritis" instead of old-fashioned rheumatism, and so on. In time, I feel positive, we will be well ahead of the game by learning more about the problem. We are now in the process of learning things which will be of great use to our sons and grandsons and great grandchildren.

But right now we are only starting on the conquest of a lot of miscellaneous misery. So I'll just write about what we have discovered so far, and not try to foretell the future.

Osteo-arthritis (as opposed to rheumatoid arthritis) is a condition which develops as we grow older, changes in the bones usually due to wear and tear. Some persons have it more than others, and we don't necessarily develop it in the same places. In your case it is in the bones of the spine.

The neuralgia may be related to the arthritis. That is, the bone changes may be putting pressure on the nerve roots. However, there are, of course, various other causes of the neuralgia.

As for the calcium deposits, these represent the healing of some previous infection. It is merely the sign that nature has been at work, and the calcium was laid down as a protective measure. So the calcium is no cause for concern.

Now for your question about diet: Diet will have no effect on this condition. It will not correct it, and it will not aggravate it, the only qualifications I have to offer being these:

First, a normal, balanced diet should be followed, not with the idea that it will do anything about the arthritis and neuralgia, but with the idea of maintaining your health in general.

Second, if a person is overweight, it naturally puts more strain on arthritic joints, and a diet that will reduce the overweight is almost always a good measure.

There are three letters today with a common bond:

A. M. wants to know about "tachycardia — will it lead to angina?"

H. H. asks about "skipping pulse beat."

Mrs. C. E. M. inquires about "heart flutter that is accompanied by a brief breathlessness. Is it serious? Does it mean heart disease?"

All are types of heart irregularity. Tachycardia (tacky-CAR-dee-uh) means rapid heart beat. The skips and flutters need no further description.

Ordinarily, we are not aware of our own heart beat. The heart may pound because of exertion, or with an ear pressed to the pillow we may hear the steady thump-thump of the heart.

But usually we don't notice the beat unless there is some change in the rhythm. This usually is alarming to the individual, although I must say that it doesn't necessarily mean that anything is wrong. Still, we may get panicky. It's natural to do so.

Frankly, a lot of the skips and flutters and so on are self-induced. Some heart muscles are more sensitive, and excessive use of coffee or tobacco can cause skipped beats. This does not as a rule mean heart trouble.

Tachycardia, or rapid heart beat, is seen fairly often in tense, apprehensive, nervous people. But it is still more common among those with an overactive thyroid. The thyroid activity may not be apparent as a goiter, yet examination discloses that a fullness in the gland exists. This condition (let's call it a "subtle hyperthyroid condition) is a lot commoner in older people than is ordinarily known.

Mrs. C. E. M.'s flutter with breathlessness could be what is known as paroxysmal tachycardia, a sudden paroxysm of quickened heart beat. It could also be a type of irregularity called fibrillation or a quivering rather than pumping tendency in the heart.

Now I can't with honesty say that all of these various irregularities are bound to be harmless. If they persist, they ought to be examined, including an electrocardiogram which will go a long way toward determining the type of irregularity.

One thing is certain: You just make yourself miserable by letting uncertainty harass you. Once you find that the flipfolps and flutters and hippety-hops are harmless, you can settle back and enjoy life. And sometimes the flutters and skips and flipflops start disappearing, too!

"Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter is to be operated on at the age of 1½ years for severely crossed eyes. Is this serious? Will there be any scars or after effects?—Mrs. R.S."

Your surgeon should have answered this. Or, alternatively, you should have asked him. Surgeons don't always know what is in your mind. Anyway, the results of this type of operation are very effective and the scars from it are invisible.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader's questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

DREW PEARSON

Mormon Head, 87, Against Slow-Up

WASHINGTON — Late one evening, a black Cadillac swept over the open highway that bisects the Salt Desert west of Salt Lake City. The distinguished, white-haired passenger stole a cautious glance at his wife to make sure she was asleep, then whispered impishly to the chauffeur: "Now let's see what this car will do!"

David Oman McKay, the ninth Mormon prophet, takes an honest delight in the rising hum of a fine engine and the song of tires on the road. The fact that his chauffeur was at the wheel was a concession to an anxious family and friends who, knowing his taste for speed, had persuaded him to use a driver on overnight trips.

The incident serves to introduce one of America's most remarkable churchmen. David O. McKay has been traveling far and fast most of his 87 years. On his birthday today (Thursday) he has scarcely slowed down.

"My boy," he told his son Llewelyn who urged him to take his work more easily, "When you stop, you're dead."

☆ ☆ ☆

Formally speaking, McKay is president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. But to more than a million Mormons around the world, he is as much a prophet as Moses or Abraham. Like the prophets of old, he is also temporal as well as spiritual leader of his people.

He is credited with healing powers and the gift of revelation. But he is also occupied with such mundane matters as running several church-owned corporations, including banks, insurance companies, a department store, hotel, and sugar refinery. In the same day, he will move from spiritual meetings with church elders to business meetings with corporation directors.

☆ ☆ ☆

His own life bridges both ages. His Scottish father and Welsh mother crossed the plains by covered wagon only a few years after Salt Lake City was founded. They settled in the snow-tipped Wasatch mountains in a fertile little valley northeast of Ogden, Utah. When his father returned to Scotland as a missionary, seven-year-old David McKay helped his mother tend the farm. He still tills the same soil.

He also keeps the same hours. Up at 4 a.m., he jots down what he must do for the day, gulps down a light breakfast, then spends the crisp early morning in meditation. To him a 6:30 appointment means 6:30 a.m. He never arrives at the office later than 7 a.m.

Looking every inch the prophet his people believe him to be, he is strikingly handsome and has a courtly air. His expressive face, livened by sparkling, deep-set eyes, is soft and kindly. And his homburg cannot contain his flowing white hair. He is more vigorous than most men half his age, shakes hands with the clutch of a dairy farmer.

DORIS FLEESON

Most Of Public Yet To Be Sold

WASHINGTON — Vice-President Richard Nixon and Sen. John Kennedy are circling each other with extreme caution at the start of their presidential bout. Both are conscious of something their supporters naturally will not admit, which is that large segments of the populace are not yet sold on either one.

The consequence is that the presently undecided vote may be crucial in the verdict November 8. Neither candidate wants to lose any part of it by an impulsive act which might create sympathy for his rival.

Both repeat privately their stated intentions of keeping to the high road throughout the campaign. Kennedy talked of it repeatedly even before the vice-president's hospital stay prompted the Kennedy pledge to avoid personalities until Nixon could also start traveling.

For Nixon, the big gamble in direct attack is that it would revive independent and Democratic memories of his controversial early career.

The problem for both is how to create suspense and excitement in a campaign held to lofty discussion of the issues, particularly as both will be speaking as relative outsiders who must make promises substitute for past performance. Possibly their unprecedented television debates will furnish the spark now lacking.

☆ ☆ ☆

Kennedy demonstrated his eagerness for this political world series by yielding to the vice-president in technical particulars. He frankly thinks he has more to gain and less to lose than his rival by a confrontation on the issues, and he seems to have no doubt whatever that he can acquit himself well.

Just how to make it interesting is a different problem. The fate of Adlai Stevenson in two elections indicates that wit is not a commodity greatly valued by the voters. Nor would apparent irritation or anger under pressure be likely to reassure them.

While both men are temperamentally cool, they are intensely competitive, and any idea that they really like each other is nonsense. Both have had enough experience to know that the one thing they dare not do to their network audience, is to bore it. Should this happen on the first try, many listeners would simply not tune in on the next two efforts.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Kennedy-Nixon TV confrontation has often been called another set of Lincoln-Douglas debates. This is apt in the sense that it might have a fateful effect on the national careers of the 1960 debaters.

But Lincoln and Douglas were competing for the Senate, not the presidency, when the famous debates were staged, and they dealt with one overriding issue — slavery. Douglas won the Senate seat, and only later was it apparent that Lincoln had won the debate.

Peace Descends

Peace has descended, electrically speaking, over war torn Beatrice.

The Consumers Public Power District, a major state agency, and the Norris Rural Power district, a southeast Nebraska REA, renounced further litigation involving their respective privilege to act as wholesale supplier to the City of Beatrice, and swore a covenant of perpetual peace, including adequate compensation for the exchange of controversial properties and clarification by negotiation of fields in which the one can enjoy service rights without interference of the other.

Consumers gained a clear field as wholesale supplier to Beatrice, as granted by the city recently when it accepted a 5 year contract. It will not be further harassed by competitive offers on the part of Norris. The latter, in turn, may proceed in its thus far frustrated effort to change its charter from that of a rural power district to a public power district so long as it confines its operations roughly to what Consumers considers is not detrimental to itself. The City of Beatrice is apparently momentarily satisfied, for after its attempt to invoke the principle of competition in its negotiations for wholesale electricity and pursuant to that several years ago rejected further service by Consumers for what it considered a better deal from Norris, it has now returned to Consumers after a dismaying experience with a chain reaction of lawsuits some of which it found itself a party to.

No one will disapprove of two public power districts settling their difference in the spirit of businessmen, preferring reason and amity to the searing flames of litigation. But it cannot be gainsaid that the Beatrice concordat contains an element of creeping monopolism which without adequate safeguards could militate against the independent cities which choose to operate their own electric service from purchased supplies. The principle of competition becomes illusory when the only existing power sources refuse to compete and small independent municipal generating plants are not practicable alternatives.

Not Wholly A Loser

The phrase, Townsend Plan, has but vague meaning, if any, for these later generations of Americans, but for those of riper years who had the unforgettable experience of the great depression the recent news of the death of Dr. Francis E. Townsend brought a flood of memories, plus a few revised conclusions.

Dr. Townsend, a retired Californian, died at the great age of 93, undaunted in his opinions of how to treat Americans of riper years, despite the arrows of scorn directed both at him and his "preposterous" ideas by the nation's greater number of citizens.

In 1933 he offered to cure what ailed the country by setting up a pension system which would give everyone over 60 the sum of $200 a month, the expense to be defrayed by a national 2 per cent sales tax.

Right thinking people viewed the idea as downright lunacy and feared that if such ideas cracked the national mind the country would go to an early grave. Nevertheless, almost 3 million aging people took Dr. Townsend's scheme so seriously that they dedicated the remainder of their lives to attending meetings of pension-minded societies called Townsend Clubs. Collectively they became politically potent and by becoming so they not only provided a new doorway to votes for the office seekers, they also made the latter especially conscious of social welfare.

Over the years Dr. Townsend's detractors succeeded in thrusting him down personally into relative obscurity or, at least, they claimed they did, albeit advancing old age with its impairments might have done it anyway. But it is a moot question whether they were anywhere near as successful downing his general doctrine that old people are (1) deserving of publicly administered retirement income and (2) that such income, since it is immediately spent, becomes an added producer of prosperity for those who continue too young to be direct pension recipients. The fact remains that both direct relief and social security are now here to stay, and may not have been had not the Townsendites raised such a stink about public indifference to the older person.

War On Mosquitoes

Lancaster County Commissioners are to be commended for the action they have taken toward elimination of the mosquito emergency which has gripped this area. For years in the past and for weeks in the current summer, this problem has been ignored with governmental subdivisions involved offering one excuse after another.

The main excuse to date has been that no government had the authority to spray some of the private land which has formed a breeding ground for the insects. Just how the county got around this stumbling block or how legitimate the excuse has been is still not clear, but the fact remains that the county has acted.

A maximum of $4,000 will be spent to spray the salt marshes north and west of the city where the mosquitoes have been breeding. Their spread has been so great that they have impaired the combat capability of the Lincoln Air Force Base and have sent at least one baby to the hospital with dangerous reactions from multiple bites.

State law permits the establishment, by a vote of the people, of mosquito control districts but this process is a cumbersome one and could have been of no value in meeting the present emergency. The only thing that could help at this time is immediate action by an existing governmental unit. The country's action in this matter is precisely what taxpayers want. They do not want stumbling around and endless excuses, even though that is what they get so often.

It is possible, however, that what we have at this time is nothing but a temporary answer to the mosquito problem. The legal questions appear to have been ignored more than they were answered. This means that the problem will just present itself again next year and every year hereafter until a permanent solution is found. It is hoped that both the city and county make an effort to determine the complete and final answer to this problem.

How Does He Rate?

Lincoln, Neb.

Just why does Nixon rate the presidential suite in a hospital, and have all this tree care — free to him while he tries to build up a big sympathy vote and we taxpayers pay for such luxurious care?

Government workers among my friends pay their own bills. This man doesn't want our old people to have help in illness. Nixon has plenty of money and he is not entitled to this.

Less Noise, Please

Lincoln, Neb.

Leading physicians advise us that unnecessary noise is one of man's worst enemies, yet the general public seems to believe otherwise. Architects and builders insist on insulating public buildings in order to help people do more efficient work, but drivers of autos, trucks, semi-tractors, motorcycles, etc., delight in using noisy motors, leaky mufflers, cut-outs and large exhausts in spite of the fact that it is against the rules of common sense to do so.

People who work in night shifts are justly entitled to normal rest during the day, but careless, selfish drivers seem to delight in preventing this.

Motor manufacturers have spent millions to produce quiet, efficient engines for our daily use, so let's each do our best to cut down or eliminate unnecessary noises. Let's give it a 30-day trial and we'll really be surprised how much better we'll all be.

Good Job

Lincoln, Neb.

Having lived in a number of other cities prior to our settling here in 1958, I can speak with some authority in a comparative sense, I am no engineer, traffic or otherwise, but I know a good street improvement job when I see one.

Many cities would have been forever doing the extensive resurfacing job that Lincoln has done in the past month or so. I have also watched the quality of this work as best I can and it appears to this layman as though a fine job has been done.

All of this has been accomplished with a wheel tax of almost insignificant amount and the city's share of state gasoline taxes and auto registration fees. Omaha's wheel tax is more than twice as much as Lincoln's and that city's streets are in twice as bad condition as our's. Lincoln people should be proud of this work and appreciative of the excellent government service it represents.

In Grand Style

Blair, Neb.

Recent headlines say that "Omaha Site Atlas Work is Finished." Many of us poor little taxpayers will draw a sigh of relief at this pronouncement. Many business people in the area will not be too unhappy, either, because it was next to impossible to compete in the labor pool with the lush wages paid the workers on these projects.

Here we had another of our now famous "cost plus fixed fee" extravaganzas. The Army Engineers do everything on a grand basis and with lots of "boondoggle." Money has never meant anything to them, or to the Air Force, either, for that matter.

There was $14,276,300 spent on this one Atlas venture. Everyone connected with it was paid fabulously and without justice or reason. These, we are told, are peace times. Why should there still be negotiated government contracts which still as during war encourage outrageous waste of money and material while guaranteeing profit? All this, while the farmer still gets criticism for what little he receives for producing the vital staff of life.

Keeping Bias Out

Lincoln, Neb.

As election day draws nearer, we will receive many letters and pamphlets concerning the religious "issue" in this campaign. Nixon will be denounced because he is a Quaker, and Kennedy because he is a Catholic. I hope everyone will place this rubbish in its proper receptacle.

I once asked Paolo Scaparone, Italian exchange student at L.H.S., what he thought of a Catholic president. As nearly as I remember, this was his answer: "In this country you have a strong separation of church and state. This is not true of Italy. I like the policies of the Democratic party, but I am supporting Stevenson. If Kennedy were president, it would not hurt the U.S. However, the prestige my opposing (Catholic Demo) party in Italy would gain would be tremendous. It would undo what good my party (Radical) has done. I do think Kennedy is a good man for America. If I were an American, I would vote for him, but I am an Italian."

I have faith in the American people! Let's keep religion and other bias issues out of politics!

Boone, Bryant Team In Big, Bouncy Fair Showing

By Del Harding

Pat Boone and Anita Bryant received a warm reception from more than 11,000 persons who attended their Wednesday night performance at the State Fair.

Boone performed for nearly an hour and sang numbers ranging from "April Love" to "Alley Oop." Miss Bryant, a dazzling beauty with a voice to match, sang several of her hit tunes including "Paper Roses" and "My Little Corner of the World."

They teamed for a hand-clapping rendition of "Whole Wide World."

The other acts in the two-hour show all were of high quality.

The same show will be presented for the final time Thursday at 7:45 p.m.

Show Highlights

Highlights included the Wazzan Troupe, an acrobatic group composed of 9 men and one woman which was a crowd pleaser with its stunts and tumbling, the Noteworthies vocal quintet who ably backed up Boone, comedian Jack Durant, puppeter Sid Krofft and the Hollywoodettes, a 16-girl chorus line.

Brilliant costuming and beautiful lighting effects added greatly to the show and even the ever-present bugs didn't seem to bother the performers too much, although Boone said he kept expecting a bug to fly into his mouth while he was singing.

All in all, it was probably the best balanced Grandstand show the fair has had and it would be hard to find two more entertaining vocalists than teen-age idol Boone or Miss Bryant, whose showmanship belies her youth. You can bet they'll both be headliners for years to come.

Cotner, Vine Bridge Plans Given Okay

Plans for two bridges over Dead Man's Run at Cotner and at Vine and estimated to total $148,000 were approved by the City Council.

Construction bids on the two projects, which will be shared 50-50 by the city and the Sanitary District, were asked on Sept. 21.

Included in the bridge projects is storm sewer construction estimated at $11,000.

Paving districts up for Sept. 21 bidding are Peach from 6th to 8th; 70th from Lidco Addition to Adams; Normal from South to 48th; Leighton from 70th to 325 feet east of 70th; X from 66th to 69th and 68th from X to Y; and 46th from Cleveland to Adams.

No estimates are published on paving districts.

Steen Warns Careless Boaters At Fremont Lake

State Game Commission Director Mel Steen declared Wednesday that boaters "either must exercise more care or boating privileges will be closed at the Fremont lakes."

Steen made the statement following the injury suffered Sunday by 9-year-old Deborah Hovey of Lincoln who was run over by a motor boat while wading along the shore of one of the Fremont lakes.

"We cannot tolerate this kind of thing and we're not going to abide by the things that have been going on up there," Steen said.

"Despite all our efforts and numerous arrests which have been made, we're still having a lot of trouble," he continued.

45 Areas

The state has approximately 45 recreation areas, and Fremont is one of two on which boating is permitted. The other is Cotton Mill Lake at Kearney.

Three lakes at the Fremont recreation area are open to boating.

Steen said boat traffic is congested at the Fremont area, but warned that boaters "must clean their own house before they start yelling for more room," and he noted that Nebraska law gives swimmers the right-of-way over all types of boats.

"They're going to pay attention to the law or they can't have any boats," he declared.

"Part of the trouble is due to people swimming where they should not," Steen said, "but no one can prevent children from wading along the shore and there should be no reason why they cannot."

The "major responsibility rests upon the boaters, just as it does upon motorists. Just because you own an automobile doesn't give you the right to drive up over a crosswalk into an area where little children are playing," Steen said.

Cooper Slam Branded False By Morrison

Democratic gubernatorial nominee Frank Morrison Wednesday demanded that Republican nominee John Cooper "withdraw his untrue charge" that Morrison had accepted a $7,500 campaign contribution from an Omaha labor leader.

Morrison further asked that Cooper "wire a public apology to the York Daily News-Times which carried his statement."

In the alternative, the Democrat suggested, "the Republican Party should repudiate all responsibility for the statements of their gubernatorial candidate."

Morrison referred to a statement allegedly made by Cooper in York that Morrison had accepted a $7,500 contribution from Leonard Shaeffer.

Cooper reportedly called the man "a labor union boss, who has a criminal record of assault and battery against non-union workers," Morrison said.

'Knows It's Untrue'

The Cooper charge that Morrison has accepted any such contribution is "untrue, and Cooper knows it," the Democrat said.

"No man by the name of Shaeffer has ever given me one penny and no union boss, political boss or any other kind of a boss has contributed one dime to my campaign," Morrison said.

". . . Even the Democratic Party up to now has not contributed one penny to my campaign fund, and the few contributions that I have received came from ordinary people.

"If I had 10% of the money to spend that my opponent has in this election, I could effectively carry the message of good government to the people all over Nebraska."

Variety Spice Of Arts Show

By Margrethe Plum

Variety is not only the spice of life, it's the spice of the exhibits at the Fine Arts Building at the Nebraska State Fair.

Everything from prize-winning oil paintings to doll clothes are on display.

Altogether, 780 items were entered by 180 competitors in the open class Fine Arts judging.

Of the 180 exhibitors, 111 were awarded winners, a pretty good showing according to Mrs. Alta Fieselman, superintendent of the Fine Arts division.

Wins 13 Awards

One Lincolnite, Mrs. Cora G. James, won 13 awards for her weaving exhibits.

But the Fine Arts department wasn't the only section with a large number of exhibits.

This year the Needlework division boasts 1,600 entries.

And their quality is "up considerably" from last year, according to Mrs. Norma Carlson, superintendent of the division.

One entrant, Mrs. W. C. Zimmer of Holdrege, made it to the fair with her braided rug just minutes before the judges began their rounds.

Her prize?

Has Best Rug

First purple ribbon for the best braided rug in the open class Needlework division.

For the younger ladies coming to the Fine Arts Building, there is one special attraction—3 dolls.

One is a bride, the other a mother and daughter duo. They are no ordinary dolls. They have wardrobes that few dolls can match.

Novelty Display

All their garments, made by Mrs. Gerald Hanson of Lincoln, won a purple ribbon as a novelty display.

The dolls can be outfitted in bright red fur-trimmed coats, lacy formals and handmade straw hats.

And skirts for the dolls—.

"They're not just skirts," laughed Mrs. Russ Gibson, clerk, "they've got plackets."

"See that?" she said as she pointed to a pair of red trousers, "embroidery right down the seam."

School For Blind May Receive New Building In 3 Yrs.

The Nebraska School for the Blind at Nebraska City will probably have a new school building within 3 years, Dr. F. B. Decker, state commissioner of education, said.

In a report to the State Board of Education, Dr. Decker said the law setting up the state institutional building fund specified that the first $300,000 accrued in the fund for the School For the Blind and the School For the Deaf in Omaha, be spent for a new school building.

The two schools receive 3% of the income of the 1.1-mill institutional building fund levy. The schools passed into Department of Education administration, from the Board of Control, in June, by order of the 1959 Legislature.

Decker also reported that 72 pupils are enrolled at the School for the Blind this year, a number that will probably remain fairly stable. There are a few out-of-state pupils, for which the state charges the actual per-pupil cost of $2,100 a year, Decker said.

He also reported that 174 are enrolled in the School For the Deaf, about three-fourths of whom stay at the institution day and night.

COTTON FEED BAG SHORTAGE IS DRESS PROBLEM

Ever made anything out of a cotton feed bag?

Eighteen women at the State Fair have and they've got the cotton bag dresses, comforters and table cloths to prove it.

But there is just one problem.

There is a shortage of cotton feed bags in Nebraska.

Everyone seems to like sewing articles from the cotton bags, according to Mrs. Frances Carlson, superintendent of the Needlework Division.

But, "it's becoming a challenge just to find the bags," she laughed.

Mrs. Eunice Harshbarger of North Platte received the most number of points at the fair for the articles she made out of cotton bags.

For this, her cotton bag articles will be entered in the National Cotton Bag Contest in Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 4.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

A lady I know is about to get married and has asked me for a place to go on her honeymoon. (I am supposed to know things like this. Ha!)

"It doesn't have to be a plush place," she said. "Just so it's romantic."

This is an interesting question. I intend to give an interesting answer.

☆ ☆ ☆

I am invited to the wedding. It is a formal affair—I go to these things smelling like mothballs no matter how much I air the clothes beforehand.

Mothballs and orange blossoms. That is the way I think of weddings when I stroll down memory lane.

Well, enough of reminiscenses. About the wedding:

I have been checking the Complete Wedding Guide for my part in this affair. But find the author has directed herself mainly to the bride.

There is a great deal to learn in a book like this. And it shows why brides are nervous. The most complicated part is the reception and a girl could blow her lines.

"After the main course (or after the dessert), whichever you like, you two leave the bridal table for the bridal dance. Together you dance at least once around the floor which has been completely cleared for you.

"Then your groom returns with you to the table and you and your father dance. The groom dances with your mother."

☆ ☆ ☆

Get this. "Then the groom's father dances with you and the groom dances with HIS mother."

"After that, the maid of honor and the best man . . ."

That is the problem with marriage these days. You have to wed first. Actually, I don't suppose you can pull off a really good formal wedding unless you have experienced help.

☆ ☆ ☆

The formal wedding has two cakes. The bride's cake is iced in white. It is three-tiered. (The bride's papa picks up the nudge on the wedding—and me with a girl child. I MUST start a savings account.)

☆ ☆ ☆

The cake is cut with a silver knife. It is tied with a white ribbon. If the bride drops the knife, a waiter is waiting in the wings. He removes the old knife and brings a new one.

The groom's cake is a dark fruit cake. The bakery must cut it in advance and put each piece in a box. So you can take it home for the dog. The guests are supposed to take this home and dream on it.

Oh, yes. Where to go that is romantic for a honeymoon. I said: "Why don't you just stay home, honey? More people are killed on highways than in bathtubs."

There is a chance I may NOT be invited to this wedding. And all this study may have been in vain.

Hearing Set For Trailer Permit

The City Council has set a Sept. 26 hearing for the revocation of the license of the Cornhusker Trailer Court at 4200 O for reported violations of the municipal code.

Inspection reports cited improper access for fire and emergency vehicles, 5 trailers parked onto public property, raw sewage dumped on the ground, electrical and plumbing defects, and improper trailer spacing.

City officials said the trailer court is being operated by W. D. Ferguson.

Building Inspector Ed Vorhees recommended the trailer court operation be terminated until the alleged violations are corrected.

Cosmopolitan Background For 4-H State Fair Dress Revue

The Eiffel Tower, a Chinese Pagoda, the Taj Mahal, bubbling fountains and palm trees provided a cosmopolitan background for the 4-H Dress Revue at the 1960 Nebraska State Fair Wednesday.

One Hundred sixty-five 4-H models paraded in the colorful setting in which a travel theme, "4-H Fashions In Today's World" was carried out.

Gerda Petersen, extension clothing specialist at the University of Nebraska, was in charge of arrangements for the Revue.

Carolyn Mock, Lincoln County, was mistress of ceremonies. She was assisted by Extension Agents Marcele Barelman of Gage County, Marjory McCamley of Buffalo County, Margaret Nelson of Douglas County, Carol VanNordheim of Valley County, Kay Leiding of Box Butte County, and Charlan Graff of Merrick County.

Judges for the Revue were Anna Marie Kriefels, extension Clothing Specialist at the University of Nebraska; Robert Staples, Mrs. Glenn Johnston, and M. Milford of Lincoln; Mrs. Curtis Reed of McCool Junction, and Mrs. Neil Lugsch of Ralston.

Thirty-two purple ribbons were awarded. The winners are eligible to compete for a trip to 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Their total 4-H clothing achievements will be taken into consideration in selecting winners of the trip.

Nichols Work Given School

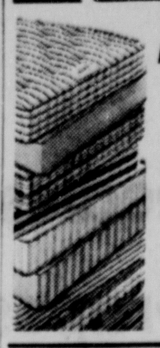

David City — A painting by Dale Nichols, internationally famous artist born and reared in this community, has been received by the David City School Board.

The painting is a gift from the artist in memory of his grandfather, the late William Pohlman, who pioneered near David City

Nichols has made his home recently at Pass Christian, Miss., but he wrote school officials that he was en route to Guatemale to live.

The painting 30 by 30 inches, combines a portrait of Abraham Lincoln and a farm scene to symbolize Lincoln's character in relation to the integrity of successful farming.

Valued at $2,000, the painting was the second most popular piece exhibited at the State Fair in Springfield, Ill., in 1955. The artist was graduated from David City High School in 1924.

Teachers' Influence Indicated

The Nebraska high school social studies teacher and his or her qualifications and quality has a great deal to do with the level of student achievement in citizenship, according to a doctorate thesis made at the University of Nebraska.

Dr. Richard L. Hart of Cozad received his Doctor of Education degree after studying 40 Nebraska high schools in an effort to find out what factors lead to good citizenship training.

According to the study, the following general relationships exist:

—Social studies teachers in high-ranking schools (those which showed good citizenship training) had their major undergraduate preparation in social studies.

—The social studies teachers in the high-ranking schools had more years of teaching experience and more graduate training.

—Students who attended elementary school education in a town public school rated higher than students from rural elementary schools.

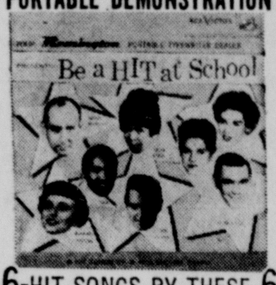

Dr. Hart explained in his summary and findings that "teachers from the high-rankinng Nebraska schools consistently appeared to reflect more enthusiasm toward their subject and expected higher achievement from their students."

Dag Forwards Ouster Of Outsiders In Congo

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Security General Dag Hammarskjold declared Thursday that the U.N. Security Council must try once more to halt outside aid to factions in the Congo conflict.

His statement was in a special report to the 11-nation council issued shortly after midnight.

He did not mention the Soviet Union by name but it seemed clear that he was referring to military aid which the Russians have been reported giving Premier Patrice Lumumba.

U.N. officials said Hammarskjold would ask for a meeting of the council probably on Friday or Saturday to consider his report.

They said the report had been rushed out in the middle of the night because of the urgency of the situation.

Hammarskjold said that the internal conflict had become increasingly grave in the last few weeks, or even days, partly because "parties have relied and obtained certain assistance from the outside" contrary to the spirit of security council resolutions.

"I consider it essential, as part of the widened and intensified effort for which I appeal in this report," he said, "that the security council reaffirm its request to all states to refrain from any action which might tend to impede the restoration of law and order or to aggravate differences . . ."

The secretary general further suggested that it might be necessary to disarm temporarily "military units which, in view of present circumstances, are an obstacle to the re-establishment of law and order in the interests of the people and the stability of the nation."

He did not elaborate or explain which military units he had in mind.

Hammarskjold proposed a broad program of financial assistance to the hard-pressed Congo government with the hope of averting an economic collapse.

He called on members of the United Nations to raise $100 million by voluntary contributions for immediate financial support for the Congo government.

This was independent of his expected request for financing of the U.N. military force in the Congo.

Hammarskjold is expected to break the news Friday that Congo operations by the U.N. may cost $75 million by the end of this year.

Protestants Eye Catholic 'Pressures'

Washington (AP) — A group of Protestant laymen and ministers questioned Wednesday whether "a Roman Catholic president would be able to withstand altogether the determined efforts of the hierarchy of his church to . . . breach the wall of separation of church and state."

A statement adopted by about 150 person who attended an all-day closed meeting also said a Catholic president would be under extreme pressure from the hierarchy to accede to church policies with respect to foreign relations.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, New York pastor and writer, told a news conference that Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee who is a Roman Catholic, was mentioned only incidentally.

Describing Kennedy as a loyal son of the church, Dr. Peale said: "We're just raising the question as to how free he could be."

Dr. Peale moderated the meeting, called the National Conference of Citizens for Religious Freedom. He said the statement was adopted unanimously.

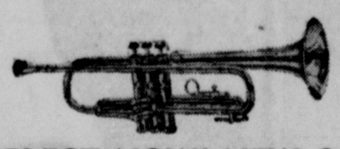

The statement said that "we of this conference, ministers and laymen in Protestant churches of 37 denominations, realize that the candidacy of a Roman Catholic for president of the United States has aroused questions which must be faced frankly by the American people."

It called for handling of the religious issue with utmost discretion and in a spirit of truth, tolerance and fairness.

"The key question is whether it is in the best interest of our society for any church organization to attempt to exercise control over its members in political and civic affairs," the statement said.

Hardin Notes Concern On Congo Among African Leaders

Chancellor C. M. Hardin of the University of Nebraska returned this week after a 5-week visit to 4 territories in British East Africa, which border the troubled Congo.

As a member of the American Council on Education committee for educational liaison between the U.S. and the countries of Sub-Sahara Africa, he visted Uganda, Kenya, Tanganyika and Zanzibar.

The 4 territories which he visited are expecting to receive their independence in the next several months.

"In our conversation with the African leaders, we sensed a vital concern about matters in Congo," Dr. Hardin said.

"And we felt a sincere determination by the African leaders to avoid similar experiences in their own territories."

Dr. Hardin said that the Africans consider education as their number one problem. "They recognize that if they are going to be self-governing and develop the kind of leadership they need, they must move forward at a rapid pace with education."

He said that these particular African governments are putting about 25 per cent of their funds into education.

"The desire for education among the Africans was the most intense that I have ever observed," he explained. "The schoolmasters reported that one of their problems is to keep the students from studying throughout the night. They believe that education is their salvation.

"Shortage Great"

"But," he added, "the shortage of money and teachers is very great.

"In Tanganyika we were told that schools were available for only about 44 per cent of those in grades one to four and currently there are about 400,000 enrolled in these grades. In grades 5 to 8, only 40,000 are enrolled and from 9 to 12, only 4,000. Of those who finish high school, only a few hundred go to college, " he said.

At present, he added, there are two University-level institutions—Royal Technical College in Kenya and Makerere Institution in Uganda. Both of these schools, he said, are of high quality.

Dr. Hardin was accompanied by Mrs. Hardin and their 17-year-old son Cliff.

Health Board Revokes Two Grade 'A' Milk Permits

The grade "A" milk permits of two local dairy producers were revoked by the City-County Health Board.

The dairymen were identified as E. F. Schmieding of 3701 No. 44th and Ferman Riley of Seward.

Schmieding did not appear before the board, but Riley was granted a hearing.

Health Director Dr. George A. Underwood said Schmieding's record since 1948 "is anything but satisfactory."

His milking utensils were often left uncleaned and his grade "A" permit was suspended 5 times, Dr. Underwood said.

Riley, in the dairy business 10 years, has had his grade "A" permit suspended 3 times, in 1952, 1959 and August, the director told the board.

Milk inspectors have consistently given Riley's dairy operators low ratings, Dr. Underwood said. The principal factor was unclean milk equipment, he added.

Riley was called in after the board had discussed his record.

The Seward farmer told the board he has a hard water problem and admitted he had sometimes neglected to clean his equipment.

Dr. Underwood said it is possible to clean, using modern detergents, even with hard water.

Riley declared: "I would like to keep selling milk."

He will still be able to sell grade "C" milk, though his grade "A" permit was lifted.

2 Hastings Cab Firms Apply For Rate Hikes

Two Hastings taxicab firms have applied for rate increases, the Nebraska Railway Commission reported Wednesday.

The firms were 80 Taxi Line, Inc., and Yellow Cab Co. They wish to charge 45 cents for the first one-half mile or less instead of the present rate of 35 cents. The remainder of the schedule would remain the same.

The commission set a public hearing on the request for 10 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 21, in the courthouse at Hastings.

7 Inmates Headed To Weak Spot

The 7 Nebraska Penitentiary inmates who tried to escape Sunday were apparently headed for a weak spot in the prison wall about which they probably learned from an older inmate, Warden Maurice Sigler said Wednesday.

Sigler said repairs have been made to the place in the wall, not far from the place in the tunnel where the convicts were found.

Sigler said one part of the tunnel system in which the men were found used to lead through the outside prison wall to a manhole in the lawn. Had the prisoners emerged from the manhole, they would have had only a wire fence to surmount to gain freedom.

Some years ago, however, there were some repairs made and the tunnel was walled up where it passed under the main wall. The outside tunnel connected with the manhole, however, was never filled in.

Sigler said had the men had enough time to locate the walled-up end of the tunnel, and enough time to cut through it, they may have been able to make good their escape.

As it was, the men had already dug a 3-foot hole in a wall—in the wrong place—when they were caught 2½ hours after the search began.

One of the tools used for digging, Sigler said, was a window bar cut from the third floor reception center for new prisoners. It had been cut with a hacksaw blade, confirming Sigler's earlier opinion that the 7 had received help from other prisoners.

Sigler said the 7, who were each sentenced to an additional year for the attempt, still refused to talk.

Sigler said he believes the "alertness and fine work of the officers on duty" in locating the missing men in a short time "was largely instrumental" in foiling the escape.

Honored At Surprise Shower

Miss Shirley Hess was the surprised honoree on Wednesday evening when a group of friends, all Delta Zeta sorority alumnae, gathered at her home for a housewarming.

It seems Miss Hess, who has been hostess in the past at many showers and courtesies honoring her friends, has not been the recipient of a shower herself until her recent purchase of a new home gave her friends the opportunity.

Around The Town

—Our little black book tells us of guests and homecomers this morning — and our guests are Mrs. Philip B. Langness (Strelsa Sears) and her son Martin who planed in from Fairborn, Ohio, last week for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Florence Bates.

Mrs. Langness and her son, accompanied by Mrs. Bates, went to Lodgepole to spend the long week end and to attend a Bates family reunion which honored B. J. Bates, who recently celebrated his 93rd birthday, and young Martin Langness, who constitutes the fifth generation of the family .

Mrs. Langness and her son are spending the current week in Lincoln.

* * *

—Home Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Whitten who spent the Labor Day week end in Alexandria, Minn., the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest U. Guenzel, who, we hear, won't be closing their summer home for another week or two.

* * *

—On the Friday evening calendar is a prenuptial dinner at the University Club honoring Miss Clay Shirley and Dr. Dale Capek, whose marriage will be solemnized on Saturday afternoon.

Arriving from Pueblo, Colo., in time for the dinner will be Dr. Capek's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Capek and their family.

Dr. and Mrs. Capek and the children will be the house guests of Mrs. Capek's parents, Dr. and Mrs. O. D. Ellis.

PEO Group Attends Seminar

Pictured at the home of Mrs. L. C. Newell before leaving on Wednesday for Nevada, Mo., are Nebraska delegates to the fifth biennial seminar of PEO held on the Cottey College campus, Sept. 7 to 9.

From the left are Mrs. Newell, first vice president of the Nebraska Chapter of PEO; Mrs. H. A. Millen, Albion, state corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. R. Kopf, Minden; Mrs. Colton Smith, Lincoln; Mrs. H. M. Ochsner, Madison; and Mrs. R. A. Kelly, Lincoln.

Mrs. Newell headed the Nebraska delegation of 36 Cottey College area chairmen who joined more than 400 PEO members from throughout the nation at the seminar.

Autumn Ceremony

MRS. STEPHEN H. WILTSE

The marriage of Miss Julie Elizabeth Bowers, daughter of Mrs. Anderson Bowers and P. E. Bowers of Verdon, to Stephen H. Wiltse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer G. Wiltse of Falls City, was solemnized Saturday afternoon, Sept. 3, at the Congregational Church in Verdon. The lines of the 4 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Alfred J. Haines.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. William Andrew Brown, Jr., of Lincoln, and serving his brother as best man was David G. Wiltse, Falls City.

Seating the guests were Nels Kjeldsen and Charles Taylor, Falls City.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, John Bowers, and wore a gown of white silk taffeta. A rounded decolletage and brief, cuffed sleeves accented the taut bodice, and the skirt flared to hemline width. A flat, head bow of the silk held her short veil of English illusion.

A former student at the University of Nebraska, the bride is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Mr. Wiltse is a June graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I married a man (Swedish) who was married before to a nice Swedish girl, named Inga. When Lars and Inga were married 12 years, Inga died.

Lars and I have been married nine years and his mother still calls me "Inga." Also Lars' mother hasn't told her own mother that Inga died and Lars has remarried. The old lady is 84. She is kind of forgetful and hard of hearing. She hasn't asked where Inga was, so nobody told her.

Here is my problem. I sat on the porch at my mother-in-law's house last Sunday and had to run and hide four times when they heard a car coming. They say it would be hard to explain to Grandma about Inga. Do you think that's right?

LAR'S SECOND WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Of course it's not right! If Lars or your mother-in-law don't want to introduce you as Lars' wife, introduce yourself. But for goodness sakes, don't hide.

DEAR ABBY: I am crazy about a guy who lives on my block but he doesn't even know I'm alive. He is a real doll and my stomach turns over every time I see him. I have done everything I could think of to get his attention but it's no use. He is 17. Why doesn't he go for me?

JUST THIRTEEN

DEAR JUST THIRTEEN: Maybe he's superstitious. Wait a while and maybe your luck will change with your age.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DROWNING MY SORROWS": It won't work, Buddy. Sorrows can swim.

☆ ☆ ☆

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grant will be honored on Sunday afternoon when their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gayle McGrew, and their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Grant, will be hosts and hostesses at a reception between the hours of 2 o'clock and 4 o'clock at the East Lincoln Christian Church in celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Grant's 50th wedding anniversary.

Friends are asked to attend without further invitation.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant were married on Sept. 12, 1910, and in addition to their son and daughter their family includes three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
2♠	Pass	3♠	4♥

Opening lead — five of spades.

This interesting hand comes from a team of four match played during Los Angeles Bridge Week. West (Marshall Miles, partnered with Edwin Kantar) opened with a weak two bid which East raised to three.

Donald Oakie (South) refused to be shut out and bid four hearts. West led a spade and declarer won with the ace. Oakie could see that the only chance of making the hand was to get to dummy for a discard on the spade king and, incidentally, take a heart finesse.

Accordingly, at trick two, despite the danger of a club ruff, he led a low club. Miles was right on his toes and went up with the ace. (If he had ducked, declarer would have made eleven tricks.)

Miles then shifted to the king of diamonds as the only hope, and, when it held, continued with a diamond. East won and returned a third diamond. Declarer ruffed with the ten, which held, but West was able to discard the ten of clubs. South now had no way to getting to dummy for the necessary heart finesse, and went down one.

At the other table, on a different bidding sequence, South (Maynard Adams) also reached four hearts. The play varied, however, when Lew Mathe (West), taking a blind shot, opened the king of diamonds. When this held, he led another diamond.

East won and played a third diamond. Adams ruffed with the ten and Mathe got rid of the ten of clubs, just as at the first table.

But the situation was now different, very different. Declarer cashed the ace of spades and led a low club. Mathe had to win with the ace. He had no safe exit card. A spade lead would put declarer in dummy for the crucial heart finesse, while a trump return would also trap East's king. So Adams made four hearts.

Had Mathe cashed the ace of clubs at trick two, before leading another diamond, the contract would have been defeated. But this was a tough play to make at the table—mighty tough.

SUBURBIA

EASTBOROUGH

Mrs Donald Schamp and her sons, Gregg and Douglas, who have been the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Schamp, left Friday to make their home in Long Beach, Calif. They will join Mr. Schamp who will receive his discharge after four years of active duty with the Navy as a radarman aboard the U.S.S. Ernest G. Small and the U.S.S. Brush.

The welcome mat is out this morning for Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Schoch and their four year-old daughter, Waynette. Formerly living at 333 No. 66th, the Schoch family moved late last month into the home at 332 Prestwick Rd.

Understand that some new residents on Eastborough Lane are Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Schulling and their children, four year-old Monie Marie and five year-old Tippy Lynn who will attend Meadow Lane School. The family moved recently from 5700 Randoplph to 612 Eastborough Lane.

Tuesday was moving day for Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Kidder and their three children, Debbie, Robby, and Kim. The Kidders moved from 455 Steinway Rd., and their mail is being forwarded to their new address, 1623 8th Ave., in Two Harbors, Minn.

3 Lincoln HRs Aren't Enough

Lincoln Star Special

Topeka, Kan. — Lincoln Chiefs socked 3 home runs Wednesday night, but Topeka managed to salvage a 5-3 win.

Dick Selinger and Dean Look belted solo clouts in the 4th inning sending the Chiefs ahead 2-1 before the Reds rallied for 3 runs in their half of the inning.

The loss, coupled with Sioux City's 10-7 victory over Des Moines, left the second place Chiefs a half game ahead of the Soos with finales remaining for both clubs tonight.

Manly (Shot) Johnston tied for the Three-I League home run leadership with Topeka's Billy Jo Dashner when he led off the 8th with his 23rd blast.

Topeka went ahead in the 1st on Tom Harper's single and Dashner's double.

After Selinger and Look gave the Chiefs their only lead, Topeka came back for 3 runs on Dashner's single, an error by losing pitcher Ron Woods, a single by Don Pavletich and a homer by catcher Larry Rancourt.

The Reds sewed it up in the 8th when Rancourt walked and advanced to second when relief pitcher Dan Osinski's pickoff attempt sailed past first baseman Gary Johnson. Rancourt scored on Marty Rosell's infield single.

Woods dropped his 9th game. He leads the league with 17 wins.

Tonight the Chiefs ring down the curtain on the 1960 campaign with a single game against the last place Reds.

Osinski, the Chiefs' ace relief hurler with a 9-2 record, asked Manager Ira Hutchinson for a chance to start a game.

Hutch will probably send the former AA chucker against Topeka's Marv Fodor (12-6).

Perry Wins 16th, 3-2 Over Birds

Cleveland (AP)—Jim Perry, making his 6th try for victory No. 16, got it Wednesday night as the Cleveland Indians edged the Baltimore Orioles 3-2.

Perry, with 3 losses since he posted his last triumph Aug. 13, was rapped for 11 hits, but the Orioles were able to cash in only twice.

In the 7th inning Jackie Brandt doubled with two out and scored on Gene Woodling's single, and in the 9th Brandt doubled home Gene Stephens who singled.

The fast-flying Birds, who have won 12 of their last 15 games, were behind from the first inning.

Ken Aspromonte led off with a single and scored on a double by Tito Francona, who made it around on a pair of ground outs.

Loser Milt Pappas, now 13-9, yielded another Indian run in the 8th when he gave up his 10th and 11th hits.

Harvey Kuenn scored on a sacrifice fly by Vic Power.

NBA Prexy Nullifies St. Louis-LA Trade

New York (AP)—Maurice Polodoff, president of the National Basketball Assn., said Wednesday he had notified the Los Angeles Lakers and the St. Louis Hawks that he was voiding a trade made by the teams last week.

In the deal, the Lakers sent draft choice Ben Warley of Tennessee State, to St. Louis for Dave Gambee and rookie Len Harmon. Polodoff nullified the trade because Warley's college class doesn't graduate until January, 1961 and he will be ineligible for NBA play until then.

Knee Injury KO's Martin During Husker Scrimmage

. . . DYER SHOT IN ARM TO WEAKENED FULLBACK CORPS

By Don Bryant

The first touch of gloom settled over the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers Wednesday afternoon, despite the improvement shown as the Reds whipped the Whites, 36-0, in a game-condition scrimmage.

Taking much of the joy out of the occasion was the injury to veteran fullback Noel Martin.

The Husker junior from Clay Center, Kan., suffered a severe knee strain in the 3rd quarter while blocking for Pat Fischer, who was skipping 85 yards for a TD with a quick kick.

Fischer's run was nullified by a clipping penalty and Martin may be sidelined for the Texas opener a week from Saturday.

OK In Week

Trainer Paul Schneider, however, said a preliminary examination indicated Martin "should be able to work in a week."

When Martin was hurt, the Huskers were left with just one sound fullback — the best fortified spot when fall camp opened.

Bill (Thunder) Thornton missed the session with a sinus infection and fever, while Steve Olsen is still recovering from a clash with the heat.

That left Dallas Dyer, Lexington junior, who has been installed at fullback after flings at several positions.

Dyer Impresses

Dyer filled in admirably and indicated he will supply some needed help at fullback by staging his most impressive performance in Husker livery.

Dal reeled off runs of 23, 19 and 36 yards and caught an 18 yard pass from Fischer to set up the 4th Red touchdown.

Gene Ward continued to shine at left halfback, running well on several occasions, and getting off a 74-yard quick kick.

Clay Gets Chance

Sophomore Bernie Clay got his first crack at the first unit and registered a pair of touchdowns in addition to a 16-yard scamper that enabled the Reds to punch across their first TD.

There were no long scoring plays, but the Reds impressed by turning TD marches of 88, 80 and 70 yards against stiffer opposition than that which graced last Saturday's 9-touchdown showing.

Coach Bill Jennings termed the scrimmage "definitely better than last Saturday . . .

MARTIN . . . knee strain

"we took better care of the ball against tougher opposition . . . it was a good, tough scrimmage . . . we needed it and we got it."

Last Scrimmage

Jennings also indicated that Wednesday's session might be the end of game-condition scrimmaging before the Texas game.

With the first two clubs making up the Reds, here's the way the scoring went:

1. Reds marched 40 yards, with Martin suppling 12 and Clay 16 to the White 1. Fischer tried 3 times before Clay finally scored.

2. Darrell Cooper recovered a Bennie Dillard fumble on the White 15. Ron Meade passed to Ward for 12 yards, Ward got 2 and Meade plunged over.

3. Center Mick Tingelhoff intercepted a Dennis Claridge pass at midfield and lugged the ball to the White 10. Clay got 7, then the final 3.

4. Reds started on own 12 with Fischer to Pat Salerno pass good for 16 yards; Fischer hit Jim Huge for 20 more, Dyer ran for 19 and took an 18-yard pass from Fischer. Pat went final 5 yards.

5. Reds started on own 30 and scored in 8 plays. Dyer got 9, 12 and 11 and Ward went final 18 to score.

6. Reds marched 80 yards in 7 plays, highlighted by a 36 yard run by Dyer and an 18-yard sprint by Ward. Meade tallied from the 8.

Reds	6	6	12	12	—36
Whites	0	0	0	0	— 0

Red scoring:
6-0—Bernie Clay (1, run.)
12-0—Ron Meade (1, run.)
18-0—Clay (3, run.)
24-0—Pat Fischer (5, run.)
30-0—Gene Ward (18, run.)
36-0—Meade (8, run.)

Bragg, Oerter Smash Vault, Discus Marks

. . . GYM PROMOTES RUSSIANS

By Ted Smits

Rome, (AP) — Russia regained the unofficial point lead in the Olympics Wednesday night with expected strength in gymnastics after losing it temporarily to the United States during a day when America's Al Oerter led a 1-2-3 sweep in the discus and Don Bragg and Ron Morris finished 1-2 in the pole vault.

Oerter's record-breaking throw of 194 feet 2 inches paced the 4th U.S. grand slam, matching sweeps in the two men's hurdles and the shot put.

At the end of the 112th day of competition, Russia had 503 points, the United States 484½ points. At one stage the U.S. led 477½-474.

The United States has 30 gold medals to 26 for Russia.

Russian superiority in the gymnastics, where it won a gold medal in the men's individual competition and a silver medal in the men's team competition, has begun to pile up points.

U.S. gold medals were won by Oerter and Bragg in track and field, the 5.5 meter yacht crew and weightlifter Charles Vinci in the bantam class.

Misses 15-9¾

Bragg tried to break his own world record after being assured of the gold medal in the pole vault but had to settle for an Olympic mark of 15 ft 5⅛ inches. He failed 3 times at 15-9¾.

However, Bragg and Morris became the first Olympic 15-foot vaulters. Both broke Bob Richard's 1956 Melbourne record of 14-11½.

Morris cleared 15-1 1/8, but missed at Bragg's winning height.

Oerter, a 235-pound purchasing agent from West Babylon, N.Y. successfully defended the title he won in 1956 at Melbourne and smashed his Olympic record of 184-10⅞ that he had bettered in the qualifying tests with 191-8⅜.

Oerter Comeback

In order to win Oerter had to come from behind on his next to last throw to beat Rink Babka of Manhattan Beach, Calif., who took the silver second medal with a flip of 190-4¼.

Richard Cochran of Brookfield, Mo., was 3rd with 187-6⅜.

Previously the United States took all the medals in the 110 meter and 400 meter hurdles and the shot put.

The American women's 400 meter relay team, anchored by Wilma Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn. queen of the women sprinters, breezed to the world and Olympic record in winning its heat.

The time was 44.4 seconds, 1-10th of a second under the mark made by Australia in 1956.

Seeks No. 3

Running with Miss Rudolph, who is seeking her 3rd gold medal, were Martha Hudson of McRue, Ga.; Lucinda Williams and Barbara Jones, both of Nashville.

Vinci, of Cleveland, won the gold medal in bantamweight weightlifting for the second straight time. He lifted 231½ pounds in the press, equaling the Games mark.

Then he did 237 pounds in the snatch to break the Olympic record and tie the world mark and capped it off with 292 pounds in the clean and jerk for a total of 760½ pounds. This tied the world record and broke his own Olympic mark.

Russian Evgeniy Minaev upset defending champ Isaac Berger of York, Pa., in the featherweight class. Berger took second.

Yacht Victory

In yachting the United States won the 5.5 meter class gold medal with George O'Day of Dover, Mass., at the helm of the Minotaur.

The U.S. entry in the star-class, manned by Bill Parks and Bob Halperin, both of Chicago, won the bronze medal.

Something new was added when Crown Prince Constantine of Greece, a handsome, fair 20-year-old, captured the dragon class gold medal in yachting. He is the first member of a royal family ever to win at the Olympics.

Russia kept up its winning ways in women's track where it has won 6 of the 8 gold medals. Ljudmila Shevcova's 2:04.3 tied the world record and broke the Olympic 800-meter record set by Dixie Willis of Australia.

In morning preliminaries, Bill Alley of Short Hills, N.J. who has bettered the listed world record in the javelin, failed to make the qualifying distance and was eliminated. The required mark was 242-9. Alley only did 225-3⅛, but has done 283-8.

Terry Buecher of Overland Park, Kan., also couldn't make the grade in the javelin. His best was 223-5½. Al Cantello of Norristown, Pa., managed to get in on his 3rd and last try with 261-6.

The United States easily qualified its two men's relay teams. The 400-meter team, on which each man runs 100 meters, reached today's semi-finals by winning its heat in 39.7 seconds.

But Germany's fast quartet did 39.5, tying the world record. Armin Hary, the 100 meter champion, sparked the German team.

—ESPOSITO ERRS, LATER BATTLES FAN—

Sox Bobble Lifts Yanks

Chicago (AP) — A botched double play ball by substitttte second baseman Sammy Esposito opened the door to a 4-run New York rally in the 8th inning and a fist fight between Esposito and a fan Wednesday night as the Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 6-4.

Victory enabled the Yankees to move within one-half game of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles who dropped a 3-2 decision at Cleveland.

In the 8th with runners on first and second and one out, Moose Skowron hit a bouncing ball which Esposito fumbled loading the bases.

Pinch batter Yogi Berra singled home two runs and pinch batter John Blanchard doubled home two more, wiping out a 4-1 Sox lead.

While the Yankees were still at bat, a fan raced on the field and started arguing with Esposito, who was filling in for Nellie Fox sidelined with a virus.

A moment later Esposito started punching the fan. Ushers flooded the field and promptly dragged the fan away.

Broglio Beats Pirates Again

Pittsburgh (AP)—Ernie Broglio, surviving a shaky 9th inning with help from reliever Lindy McDaniel, pitched second-place St. Louis to a 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday night and trimmed the Pirates' National League lead to 6 games.

Broglio, continuing his mastery of the league-leaders, scattered 7 hits over 8 innings while fanning 3 and walking 3.

He gave up a leadoff single to Don Hoak in the 9th and two outs later was tapped for a run-scoring single by Bill Virdon.

Manager Solly Hemus then yanked Broglio and brought on McDaniel, who retired pinch hitter Hal W. Smith for the final out.

Broglio has beaten the Pirates 4 times this year without losing and has an overall season record of 18-7.

Pittsburgh's Vernon Law, winningest pitcher in the majors, failed in a bid for his 20th victory of the year and took the loss, his 7th against 19 victories.

The loss was Law's first to the Cardinals since June 26, 1958.

Law gave up consecutive singles to Curt Flood, Hal R. Smith and Broglio that scored the first Cardinal run.

The Cards got their second run in the 8th. Joe Cunningham led off with a single, moved to second when Law hit Ken Boyer and scored on Daryl Spencer's single.

Stan To Make Decision Soon

Pittsburgh (AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals said Wednesday he will make a statement within two weeks on whether he will continue playing baseball.

The 39-year-old star, a native of nearby Donora, made the comment at a Circus Saints and Sinners Club luncheon in his honor.

Cardinal manager Solly Hemus said at the luncheon: "I hope Stan's decision is to stay in the game, not only because he means so much to baseball, but because I am greedy enough to admit that he can help the Cardinal organization."

—TODAY IS FINALE FOR BIG CARS AT FAIRGROUNDS—

Folse Out To Keep Record Intact

Pete Folse and Buzz Barton, the racing neighbors from Tampa, Fla., go at it again here this afternoon in the 3rd and final day of big car races at the Nebraska State Fair.

The first race gets under way at 2 p.m. Friday afternoon, late-model American stock cars battle foreign sports cars in the 200-lap Cornhusker International.

The same starting time prevails, following 1:30 time trials.

Should Barton or some other big car chauffeur beat Folse to the checkered flag this afternoon, it will be the first time this year that Folse hasn't come out on top in a state fair racing series.

Pete, the defending International Motor Contest Assn. champion who swept here a year ago, won Sunday but finished 7th while Barton was winning Monday.

Should Folse and Barton falter, the most likely candidate to replace them is Herschel Wagner, the Hickman Mills, Mo., driver who posted the fastest time trial.

And, if Wagner, like Folse, Barton and Porky Rachwitz an Offenhauser chauffeur, can't turn the trick, Jerry Shumaker of Wichita is the most likely non-Offy driver to come through.

Shumaker finished second to Barton on Monday and came in 6th Sunday.

Another definite threat is Jerry Blundy, Galesburg, Ill., pilot who finished 3rd Sunday and 4th Monday while wheeling the Helm Offy.

KEEPING SCORE

With Al Beebe

Star Sports Staff Writer

8 All-Staters Return

Eight Nebraska gridders earned prep All-State honors last year as juniors, and will be shooting for repeat Awards again this fall.

It's an honor often missed the second year around. Injury, poorer schedules, and just plain lack of achievement often keep an all-stater from repeating.

Considered a sure-fire repeater, however, is Kent McCloughan of Broken Bow, the 180-pound Class B sprint king who was named to the big All-State team last year, as well as Class B.

McCloughan

He scored more than 20 touchdowns a year ago, totaling 139 points. He averaged 9.5 yards per carry with 1,267 yards gained.

On defense, he spectacularly led his team in tackles from his safety position.

This is the boy about whom I've heard nothing but raves, and I'm anxious for the chance to see him. He's most often compared with the great Bobby Reynolds, with the comment that he's "not as tricky or elusive as Reynolds, but bigger and faster."

Class A All Seniors

Every Class A selection last year was a senior, but Class B has big end Walt DeWitt of Cozad back, in addition to McCloughan.

In Class C, a pair of David City St. Mary's dandies could spark that club to another championship. Dennis Kirby is a fast, 193-pound back, while Don Svobodo earned honors at center.

Also returning is Newman Grove guard Donovan Benson.

In the 8-man ranks, there are end Cliff Rice of Fremont St. Patrick's (now Archbishop Bergan), and big center Vern Schneider from Axtell.

The 6-man returnee is Don Lewien, who copped backfield honors as a sophomore at DeWitt last year.

32 Undefeated In 1959

A total of 32 clubs went undefeated in 1959, and only one of them was in rugged Class A. Falls City won 7, but was tied twice. The Tigers could be strong again this year, but are in danger of dropping to Class B in boy enrollment.

Uudeafeated Class B teams were Aurora, Bridgeport, Crofton, Grant, Rushville and Schuyler, the latter boasting the state's longest undefeated skein at 19.

Class C perfect records belonged to Ansley, Blue Hill, David City St. Mary's, Genoa and Pender.

Only Bladen and DeWitt had perfect 6-man slates, but a host of 8-man clubs went unbeaten. They are Amherst, Bartlett, Cedar Bluffs, Chadron Assumption, Dakota City, Dalton, Dorchester, Eagle, Fairfield, Farnam, Fremont St. Pat's, Greeley Sacred Heart, Hershey, Lawrence, Mason City, Venango, York St. Joe, and Yutan.

I wonder how many of these skeins will be ended come Friday night?

NATS STOP A'S RALLY

Kansas City (AP) — Reliever Ted Sadowski shut off a Kansas City 9th inning rally Wednesday night and the Washington Senators beat the Athletics 5-3.

The A's, shut out until the 8th inning when they scored a run off Hal Woodeschik, had two runs in and men on first and 3rd when Sadowski came in and made Andy Carey hit into a forceout.

New York (AP) — The ball which Ted Williams hit on Aug. 10 at Cleveland for his 512 major league home run was presented to Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and will be enshrined in the Hall of Fame at Cooperstorn, N.Y.

The homer moved the Red Sox slugger into 3rd place behind Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx among the all-time homer hitters. Ruth hit 714 and Foxx 534.

Bruton, Crandall Hits Tip Giants 6-5 In 11

Milwaukee (AP) — Billy Bruton's triple and Del Crandall's long single off the left field wall boosted the Milwaukee Braves to a 6-5 victory over the San Francisco Giants in 11 innings Wednesday night as Carl Willey earned his first triumph in more than a month with brilliant relief pitching.

Willey, the hard luck member of the Milwaukee pitching staff, surrendered only one hit in 7 innings after taking over for starter George Brunet at the top of the 5th.

Willey struck out 5 and walked 3 in posting his 6th victory in 13 decisions.

The Milwaukee righthander's pitching efforts were virtually matched by Giant Stu Miller, who came on with one out in the 4th after the Braves had taken a 5-4 lead ball through the 10th.

Reds Nudge L.A. In 15th

Cincinnati (AP) — Frank Robinson singled off the scoreboard in the last of the 15th Wednesday night and drove in the run that gave Cincinnati a 4-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Marshall Bridges, turning in a brilliant relief hurling job, got credit for the victory. He allowed only two hits in 6 innings.

In the 15th it also was Bridges who started the Reds on their way to victory. He opened with a single, went to second on Roy McMillan's sacrifice, moved to 3rd on Vada Pinson's infield hit and then breezed home on Robinson's long blow.

Liston Awarded Close Decision Over Machen

Seattle (AP) — Cold-eyed Sonny Liston of Philadelphia won a close 12-round decision Wednesday night over Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., in a nationally televised fight. Liston weighed 211, Machen 196.

There were no knockdowns, but Liston's wildly-flailing fists landed low in the 6th and 11th rounds.

Machen went down from the second solid smash below the belt and was given a minute to recover. Referee Whitey Domstad took the 11th round away from Liston for the errant blow.

The decision was unanimous, the referee giving every round but the 11th to the victor. The two judges gave it to Liston by a narrow margin, one by two points and one by 4.

This was an important victory for Liston, ranked first among the contenders for Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight title. Machen, ranked second, was attempting to use Liston as a stepping stone to a title shot.

The Portlander's strategy was apparent from the opening bell. He retreated throughout the fight, forcing Liston to move and turn and never presenting an open target.

There were several flurries of temper after Liston landed his first low blow in the 6th. Crowd favor immediately swung to Machen and almost every body blow by the powerful Philadelphian brought cries of "foul" from the stands.

U.S. Athletes Depart

Rome (AP) — Eighty-seven United States athletes, including 5 gold medal winners, flew home Wednesday night after completing their participation in the Olympic Games.

Detroit Fetes Ted; Ted Beats Detroit

Detroit (AP)—Ted Williams, celebrating a night in his honor at Briggs Stadium, drove in two runs and scored another as the Boston Red Sox rallied for a 5-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night.

Williams, who has indicated he will retire at the end of this season, had a single and double in four trips to the plate.

Prior to the game, the 42-year-old slugger was presented several gifts, including a silver platter, at home plate ceremonies.

Frank Sullivan earned his 6th victory although Mike Fornieles came on to pitch the final two innings. The big fireman set the Tigers down in order.

Frank Lary went all the way for Detroit, losing his 15th of the season.

CONLEY SNAPS LOSING SKEIN

Philadelphia (AP)—Gene Conley snapped out of a 6-game losing streak Wednesday night with a flashy 4-hit shutout as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Chicago Cubs 2-0.

The big righthander, who's last win was at the expense of the Cubs on July 27, put on his sharpest exhibition of the season. He struck out 8 and walked only one batter. It was his 8th triumph against 12 losses.

ORIOLES SIGN VET DEL RICE

Cleveland (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles Wednesday signed Del Rice, veteran catcher released earlier this season by the St. Louis Cardinals.

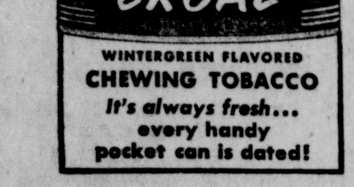

A National Leaguer since 1945, the 37-year-old Rice joined the Orioles in time for Wednesday night's game here against the Cleveland Indians.

Rice, who has spent most of his career with St. Louis and Milwaukee, batted .222 and drove in 4 runs in 19 games for the Cardinals this year.

Anxiety, High Hopes Precede AFL Opener

Boston (AP) — The Boston Patriots kick off the regular American Football League season against Denver Friday night amid high hopes and anxieties.

Opening full-scale combat with the established National League for customer dollars, the AFL has reached the "moment of truth."

The story of the Patriots in many respects is that of the league. The club is battling against the history of two previous failures of pro football in Boston.

The old Redskins moved to Washington early in the 1930's and the Yanks evacuated 12 years ago.

Television money and the tremendous growth of interest in the pro game are factors which make the Patriots' backers feel the 3rd time will spell success here.

Boston had a 4-1 record in exhibition games and is rated no worse than an even choice for the Eastern Division title.

The apprehension concerns the tender ankle of ace ball carrier Ron Burton and box-office sales.

It appears the Patriots will need a heavy outpouring at game time to fill the 25,000-seat revamped Boston University field, previously the ball park for the now departed Boston Braves baseball team.

Two days before the game, only about 11,500 tickets had been sold.

While the Patriots have some bread and butter line plungers and flanker backs who can go out and grab passes, Burton is the one break-away threat who commands complete respect from opposing defenses.

The Patriots have an extremely effective passing game but Burton is the man needed to offset the aerial barrage. The quarterbacks are Butch Songin, 33-year-old graduate of Boston College and the Canadian pro ranks, and Tommy Greene, ex-Holy Cross.

BOBCAT CO-CAPTAINS

Veteran linemen Jerry Henning of Peru, left, and Gail Beckstead of Bellevue will serve as co-captains for the Peru State Bobcats in their opener against Iowa Wesleyan at Fort Madison, Ia., Friday night.

Karnes Champion

Karnes defeated State Farm Insurance 33-18 Tuesday night to win the city softball Class B girls championship.

Bing Becomes Weeper At Olympics

Rome (AP) — Bing the groaner has become Bing the weeper at the Olympic Games.

"You should see how the tears roll down his cheeks when that American flag goes up," said his wife, Kathy.

Bing Crosby, with his familiar snap-brim straw and curved-stem pipe, and Kathy, in a sleeveless white cotton blouse and printed full skirt, paid a visit to the Olympic Village Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

This created another mob scene, with athletes from all nations—even the Russians—rushing over for autographs.

The Crosbys, in Rome on a holiday, have been cramming a lot of Olympic viewing into the last several days. They have seen most of the track and field, the swimming and the boxing finals.

"There's no difference of opinion between us on who in the Games has fascinated us most," Bing said. "It's this Wilma Rudolph — we think she's wonderful."

"She runs like a gazelle," added the demure, brunette Kathy.

Bing said he got one of his biggest thrills in watching Otis Davis win the 400 meter race in world record time.

"When Bing sees 3 American flags go up after a sweep he is overcome with emotion," Kathy confided.

Crosby signed hundreds of autographs and seemed to enjoy informal chats with the various athletes.

He shook hands with Livio Berruti, Italy's 200 meter champion.

"You look much bigger out on the track," Bing said.

America's 3 boxing champions — Cassius Clay of Louisville, Ed Crook of Fort Campbell, Ky., and Wilbert McClure of Toledo, O., came around with their medals proudly slung over their necks.

"Are you going to turn professional?" Crosby asked Clay.

"Maybe, if I can get in the right hands," the light heavyweight replied.

Kathy talked with swimmers Chris Von Saltza and Lynn Burke for a long time. Bing told another swimmer, Molly Botkin of Hollywood, that he has made hundreds of records with her guitar-strumming dad, Perry Botkin.

The Crosbys ate lunch in the American cafeteria where they chatted with Earlene Brown, John Thomas, Ray Norton and other athletes.

"He told me I done good," Earlene, the husky shot putter and discus heaver, said proudly.

Cold Spell Puts Stop To Peeping

Rome (AP) — The first cold snap of early fall has cooled off—at least momentarily—the horde of peeping toms who've been haunting the girls section of the Olympic Village.

"They've been awful," said Suzanne Wren of Chicago. "It's been like living in a zoo. Or a bear pit. You're the animals. They're the audience."

Tall, blonde and beautiful, Miss Wren is secretary to Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson of Chicago, president of the United States Olympic Committee.

"Tuesday night for the first time," she continued, "there were only a few of them. It must have been the cold."

The mercury—which has been in the 90's during the games—dipped to the low 50's.

From a peeping tom's point of view the location of the girls sector of the Olympic Village is just about perfect.

The quarters are surrounded by an 8-foot tall fence, but running through the heart of the village is a modern overhead highway called the Corso Francia.

And, at one point it swings very close to where the girls live—and at eye-level with their windows.

The Corso Francia affords plenty of parking space for cars, and has a foot-way for pedestrians.

Many bring binoculars. The Italian organizers of the Olympics furnished the girls rooms with no curtains.

Reds Laud Wilma

Rome (AP)—Russian athletes agreed among themselves that the outstanding Olympic performance so far was Wilma Rudolph's 11 seconds for the 100 meters.

"That girl will beat Germany's Armin Hary one day" said Pravda's sports writer.

Nicklaus To Face Iowan In Opener

St. Louis (AP) — Official pairings released Wednesday pit Jack Nicklaus, 20-year-old defending champion from Ohio State, against a 38-year-old insurance man from Des Moines in Monday's opening round of the 6-day United States amateur golf championship.

Nicklaus' opponent in the all match play tournament at the St. Louis Country Club will be John J. Donohue Jr.

Their match will be one of 72 to be played Monday. All told, 56 players in the 200-man field drew first-day byes.

Nicklaus is in the second quarter of the draw, along with another top contender, two-time champion Harvie Ward of San Francisco.

The survivor of the first quarter will meet the survivor of the second quarter in one semi-final match Friday, Sept. 16, while finalists of the 3rd and 4th quarters meet in the other semi-final.

STEELERS LIST 43

Pittsburgh, (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers Wednesday released end Clayton Tave, who played at Pepperdine College in Los Angeles. The Steelers' roster now stands at 43 players.

Fullback John Henry Johnson started running Wednesday for the first time since injuring an ankle in a game with the Detroit Lions. Guard John Nisby was also back in action. Nisby injured a knee.

There's A 'Hitch' To Wheeling A 4-Horse Hitch

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

Want a thrill? Then learn to drive a 4-horse hitch.

State fair exhibitors of the Belgian draft horses claim that you can teach a person to fly a plane in less time than you can teach a driver how to manipulate a 4-horse hitch.

"There is life in those lines —they telegraph action with every step," said Orvil Pierce of Oakland, Ia. who exhibits and drives his own multiple hitch.

This event was won by Eldred Pierce of Oakland, Ia., Orvil's brother, but he says, "The nervous tension which accompanies driving the big animals has taken its toll—I now hire a driver for exhibition and competitive events."

Tell Of Comeback

The show was over and most of the owners had finished caring for their horses. In some restful moments, the story of the "comeback in draft horses was being told."

"Many folks have found out that a horse is still the best help for getting many jobs done," said Ronald Hagland of Ogden, Ia.

To back up his point he told of logging operations in Canada and Maine where in many a spot only horses are allowed in handling timber.

Last winter, when the snow was deep, many requests were received from cattle feeders who would pay almost anything for a team to use in feeding.

Horse Is Tops

"Most folks still rate the horse superior when it comes to feeding cattle," said Eldred.

There is one thing horsemen want to make clear. They do not keep their horses just as a hobby; most of them use their teams in regular farm operations.

"Sure, I have a tractor, in fact 5 of them, but many a job around the farm is still done more economically with horses," said Orvil.

How much is a draft horse worth? In breeder sales, horses frequently reach $1,000 to $2,000 each, and geldings matched in teams have sold for $1,500 a pair.

A few years ago, folks predicted that draft horses would be a thing of the past, but figures at Nebraska's State Fair are contrary when last year's record show was topped this year with another increase.

What is the biggest problem to the horsemen?

They say it is finding someone who knows how to drive horses. Looks like an "old trade" will get revived, say the horsemen.

5 American Bus Officials Go To Omaha

Five of the 55 employes of American Buslines, which has had home offices in Lincoln the past 8 years, are now located in Omaha offices.

They are William Aikman, president; A. F. Baldus, vice-president, C. A. Scott, traffic manager; Henry Van Ingelgum, tariff division chief, and L. W. Nelson, assistant to the president.

The staff separation will not affect construction of the new terminal office building planned at 10th and P in Lincoln by Four States Realty Co., in which American Buslines will have its new terminal, according to L. R. Luken, company treasurer.

Luken will supervise operations of the 50 accounting employes remaining in Lincoln.

The American Buslines maintenance center in Omaha is the firm's largest. Omaha is also a regional bus terminal for American.

Dental Health Study Set For Institutions

The dental health committee of the Nebraska State Dental Health Association will conduct a study of the dental health care programs now being carried out in the various state institutions.

The Board of Control approved the study after a request from Dr. John A. Klein of Omaha, a member of the association.

Board Vice Chairman Harold Peterson said the committee would submit a report of its findings to the board.

Jeep Joy Riders Hit New Autos On Lot

Police have already received their first report of property damage to 1961 model cars.

Police said 3 1961 Plymouths parked on a lot at 1215 No. 17th were damaged when 4 boys, 15 and 16, turned on the starter switch of a jeep parked nearby and the jeep lurched into the new cars. The damage to the new cars was estimated at $50.

FLORIDA MENACED

. . . 'Gold Coast' Braces

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane conditions probably will affect the southeast Florida coast from Cape Canaveral to Key West, the Miami Weather Bureau said.

Each hour that Hurricane Donna, which Wednesday battered the southern Bahamas Islands, continued on its westerly course presented a greater threat to the southeastern mainland.

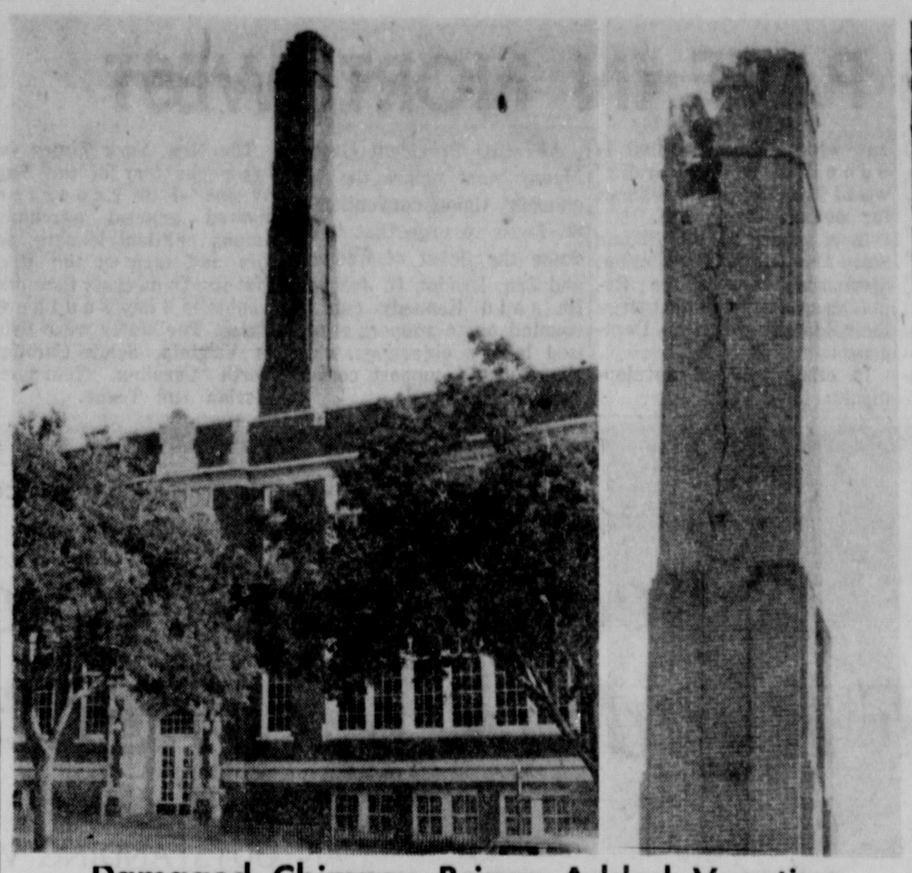

Residents of Florida's "Gold Coast" braced for the onslaught of the killer hurricane. It is estimated 50% of the population in that 350-mile strip have moved to Florida since the 1950 hurricane, last to hit here.

Gathering Speed

A hurricane advisory issued at 4:30 p.m. placed the storm about 518 statute miles east-southeast of Miami and very close to the island of Mayaguana in the Bahamas.

The storm gathered up speed and intensified. Winds in its center increased from 140 to 150 miles per hour, its forward movement was upped from 8 to 10 mph, which could push hurricane force winds to the mainland within 36 to 48 hours.

The storm already has taken at least 116 lives.

Damaged Chimney Brings Added Vacation

Opening of Elliott Elementary School, 225 So. 25th, will be delayed a few days due to the damaged chimney, shown above, which was struck by lightning in a recent storm, Lincoln Public Schools Superintendent Steven Watkins reported Wednesday. (Star Photo)

$2,000 Gift Accepted For Woods Park

The gift of $2,000 from the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce and earmarked for improvement of Woods Park at 33rd and O has been accepted by the City Council.

The women's division asked the money be used to defray the cost of installing water facilities in the park's picnic area.

In accepting the gift on behalf of the city, the council "commends the civic-spirited organization . . . on its many worthwhile projects."

Fields Hotels Moves Region Office Here

The Fields Hotel Co of New York City has negotiated and completed a transfer of the midwest regional office from Omaha to Lincoln, according to company officials.

Dolan

This will mean a local boost in employment of 15 to 20 men and women.

According to newly-appointed regional manager, Charles F. Dolan, the regional office manages a $6 million annual business from the 12 Fields Hotels in Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri.

He added that employes from the Omaha regional office have been transferred to other regional posts in the Lincoln and Capital Hotels in Lincoln; The Evans, Columbus; Madison, Norfolk; Lincoln, Scottsbluff; Lafayette and Clinton, Clinton, Ia.; Tallcorn, Marshalltown, Ia.; Chieftain, Council Bluffs; Elms and Oakes, Excelsior Springs, Mo.; and Rome, Omaha.

The regional office was moved because the hotel chain prefers its regional headquarters in centrally located cities with two or more hotels, such as Lincoln.

The 12 hotels, which employ about 500 in this region, were originally Eugene Eppley hotels.

The Fields Hotel Co., presently maintains about 27 hotels across the nation.

Before going to Worcester, Mass., 3 years ago as general manager of the 450-room Bancroft Hotel, Dolan was with the Lincoln, Capital, Rome, Chieftain, Evans and Madison hotels.

Former Columbus natives, he, his wife and children now live in the Lincoln Hotel.

Serrato, 92 Dead

Montevideo, Uruguay (AP)—Ex-President Jose Serrato died Wednesday of a heart attack. He was 92. Serrato also was a former foreign minister and delegate to numerous international conferences. He was president from 1923 to 1928.

Lightning Damage Delays Opening Of Elliott School

Students at Elliott Elementary School, 225 So. 25th, will have a few more days vacation than the other Lincoln Public Schools students, who start back to school next Monday.

Delay in school opening is the result of an "extremely hazardous" condition caused by lighting striking the school chimney, Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of schools, reported Wednesday.

Contractors will start demolition work immediately, Dr. Watkins said. However, it is "not safe" for children on the premises until after the upper portion of the chimney has been removed, he added.

Announcement will be made to the public as soon as it is known when the school will open, he said. Depending on demolition progress and the weather, it is expected that classes will be held the latter part of next week.

Tower Topper

London (AP)—A 12-story office building is to challenge the Tower of London's 900-year dominance over the tiled roofs of the east end. The Housing Ministry approved plans for the building, close to the tower, despite protests that it will overshadow the gray turrets of London's most famous landmark.

KENNEDY CONTINUES BLISTERING PACE IN NORTHWEST

Washington (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy, keeping up his blistering campaign pace in the Pacific Northwest, said Wednesday U.S. prestige abroad is declining. He blamed it on the Republicans.

The Democratic presidential nominee also said it is the fault of Republicans that the governmeot itn't providing help needed by the nation's schools for more classrooms and teachers.

While Kennedy moved into Oregon — Eugene, then Portland — the campaign of his GOP rival, Richard M. Nixon, remained in low key as the vice president continued to recuperate in Walter Reed Medical Center from his infected knee.

Nixon issued the second of his papers aimed at giving his views in depth on various subjects. This one proposed government sponsorship of a major new program for basic research to meet the Soviet challenge in science. An earlier paper issued Aug. 20 dealt with the meaning of Communism to Americans.

On more of a political note for the Nixon camp, his press aide, Herbert G. Klein, told reporters the GOP presidential candidate will make an all-out pitch for the women's vote. The reason, Klein explained:

"It's our general view women will decide the election."

And Klein added that public opinion polls show Nixon is favored by the majority of women voters. He said the vice president's wife, Pat, will accompany Nixon when he starts out Monday on a 14-state swing.

In connection with Nixon taking off from Baltimore's friendship airport to resume his campaign, the White House announced that he will have breakfast there first with President Eisenhower and Henry Cabot Lodge, the GOP vice presidential candidate.

Lodge called at the White House and discussed campaign strategy with Eisenhower. The former United Nations ambassador was in town primarily to watch the swearing in of his successor, James J. Wadsworth.

Klein said Nixon was out of bed for 4 hours during the day working on campaign matters, including a farm speech he will deliver Sept. 16 at Guthrie Center, Iowa.

Politics came up at Eisenhower's news conference.

He said it isn't true, as some claim, that he likes to "stay above politics." The President said it was his duty to show why he believes in the basic policies that have guided his administration.

But in respect for the dignity of his office, Eisenhower said a president "cannot just go out and be in the hustings and shouting some of the things that we see often irresponsibly."

Eisenhower also repeated that both he and Nixon are agreed never to raise the question of religion in this campaign and said no one suggested to him that such an issue be raised.

In Chicago, Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential candidate, said the election of Nixon "with a Congress that is bound to be Democratic" would kill America's chances for change or growth.

In a speech to the Illinois State Democratic Convention, Stevenson accused the Republicans of trying to merge their identity with the Democrats.

In other political developments:

AFL-CIO President George Meany went before the Machinists' Union convention in St. Louis to urge that it endorse the ticket of Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. He said Kennedy can be counted on to support organized labor's objectives while Nixon would support conservative views.

The New York Times said two-weeks tour of the South by one of its reporters showed general agreement among political leaders, editors and men in the street that the Democrats face deep trouble in 6 key Southern states. The states were listed as Virginia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Florida and Texas.

The Tower of London actually is a group of buildings covering 13 acres on the bank of the Thames River.

Senate Unit Lashes Bakers' For 'Discriminatory' Prices

. . . HRUSKA JOINS MINORITY REPORT

Washington (UPI) — The Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee Wednesday accused major wholesale bakers of using discriminatory prices and other "predatory" practices to further a trend towards concentration in the industry.

The conclusions of the Democratic-controlled subcommittee's report on bread prices were challenged in two separate reports written by GOP subcommittee members. Both minority reports questioned the value of the whole bread-price investigation.

Major targets of the subcommittee majority were the so-called "big eight" of the wholesale baking industry. They were listed as Continental Baking Co., General Baking Co., Campbell Taggart Associated Bakeries, Interstate Bakeries Corp., American Bakeries Co., Ward Baking Co., Langendorf United Bakeries, and Southern Bakeries Co.

The wholesale baking industry, the majority report said, is characterized by "a persistent trend towards concentration, accomplished perhaps without conspiracy but surely fostered by the continuous use of other monopolistic practices."

Bread prices have risen, with few drops during recessions, the report said, while the share of the market held by the large companies has increased. That growth of concentration, the report said, has involved price reductions in some areas which drive out small competitors.

The minority reports said that the number of independent bakeries in existence dispels any concern about concentration in the industry.

One minority reporrt, signed by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., and Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., said the charges of price discrimination and other unfair practices were "erroneous and unfounded."

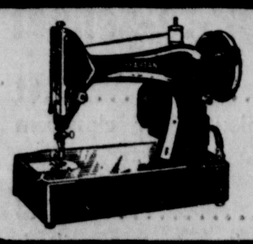

The Dirksen-Hruska report commented that no remedial legislation was specifically proposed by the majority. It said testimony before the subcommmittee did not support "broad generalizations which impugn the motives, personal integrity and character of numerous citizens in every state in the union."

Earl K. Long Leaves Home

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—Earl Kemp Long, who died of a heart attack, Wednesday left forever the beautiful state capitol he filled with fierce, colorful politics.

The big, bronze casket with the body of the tough old man who was governor 3 times was removed to the First Baptist Church for funeral services.

More than 22,000 Louisianians and out-of-state visitors, state police estimated, filed by Long's bier after his casket was placed in the 34-story capitol's Memorial Hall at noon Tuesday.

Broadcast

Television and radio stations tuned in to bring the church services to untold thousands more.

The fiery brother of the late Sen. Huey P. Long, who gave birth to the Long dynasty, died Monday in Alexandria.

It was just 9 days after a political comeback after months of power slippage brought on by last summer's trips to mental wards.

Ignored Doctors

Long whipped young U.S. Rep. Harold McSween for his post in the eighth congressional district, stubbornly ignoring doctor's warnings to take it easy.

For 24 hours, Long's body lay in state exactly where Huey's casket was placed a quarter century ago.

Earl's casket, when carried back down the capitol's broad granite steps, still blazed with a gorgeous blanket of purple and white orchids.

Headed Home

After church services, two state police motorcyclemen and two patrol cars escorted the hearse 150 miles northward to the piney woods of Winnfield. It is the birthplace of the tumultuous Longs, and the burial place for Earl.

The body will lie in state at the First Baptist Church there until the graveside services at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Long's funeral came almost exactly 25 years after Huey's, for it was on Sept. 12, 1935, that services for the self-styled 'Kingfish' were held.

At that time, Gerald L. K. Smith orated that Huey's spirit "shall never rest as long as hungry bodies cry for food, as long as lean human frames stand naked, as long as homeless wretches haunt this land of plenty."

Road Record Is 'Tribute' To Drivers, Law

Nebraska's coming out of the Labor Day weekend with fewer traffic fatalities than most of the surrounding states "is a tribute to alert driving and alert traffic law enforcement," Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Gov. Ralph Brooks, said Wednesday.

"In our 8-state area, Nebraska highway misfortunes were less severe than most," Conrad said.

There were 3 fatalities in the state this year compared to 2 during the Labor Day weekend last year.

In the area, only Wyoming escaped with no fatalities, and Iowa had 10. The others were: North Dakota, 2: Kansas, 5; Colorado, 6; Missouri, 8, and South Dakota, 9.

Col. C. J. Sanders of the State Safety Patrol reported Wednesday that State Troopers made 126 arrests in the Lincoln area during the long weekend. Other figures included: 323 warnings issued; 3 drunken drivers arrested; 2 arrested for driving on suspended license, 412 "must repair" tickets issued, and 9 accidents investigated.

In the Omaha area, 174 arrests were made and 214 warning tickets were issued.

Other figures for the area, according to Sanders, were: 507 "must repair" tickets issued; 5 drunken drivers arrested; and 9 accidents investigated.

RENEWED SENATE INVESTIGATION SPOTLIGHTS DRUG PRICES

Washington (AP)—Senate investigators questioned Wednesday how 3 rival drug firms arrived at and maintained identical prices for antibiotics during the last 10 years.

Officials of one of the producing firms, the American Cyanamid Co., said the sameness of prices reflected the keenest kind of competition.

The issue was raised as the Senate Antitrust Subcommittee resumed its lengthy investigation of pricing practices by the prescription drug industry.

The Senators turned Wednesday to the cost of antibiotics, a $400 million a year business at the manufacturers' level.

The hearing was punctuated, as in the past, by clashes between subcommittee chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., who objected to some of the questioning.

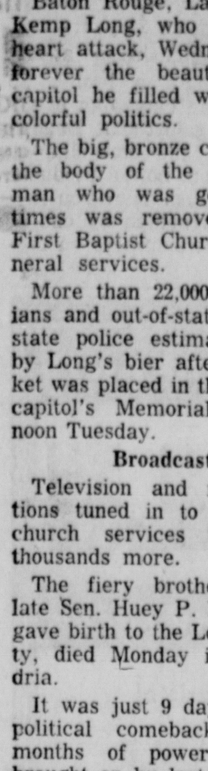

Dirksen first objected to an attempt by Kefauver to place in the record material which the Tennessean said would show unreasonable and excessive prices have been charged for the antibiotic drug tetracycline. Dirksen and Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., argued that the evidence had been given the subcommittee in confidence and should not be aired publicly at the hearings.

Kefauver ruled out of order a motion by Dirksen to exclude the material until the subcommittee could decide behind closed doors on its admissibility. However, Kefauver delayed actually putting the material into the record.

Dirksen tangled again with Kefauver when the chairman questioned Dr. W. G. Malcolm, president of American Cyanamid, about his firm's profits on drug operations.

Malcolm had testified that the company's Lederle Laboratories Division tries to earn 12 to 15% profit annually after payment of taxes. He said in prepared testimony, however, that this has risen "slightly in excess of 15% during the last two or 3 years."

The subcommittee staff produced figures indicating Lederle's profits after taxes totaled 17.5% in 1957, 16% in 1958 and 17.7% in 1959. This was confirmed by Malcolm under questioning.

Guy In Swivel Chair Keeps Things Humming Along At State Fairgrounds

By Gene Budig

"Ed, line 4!" cries a strained voice from the outer office.

Before the big guy in the swivel chair can put down a stack of letters and reach the phone, his hand is clasped by a chunky, cigar-puffer who snorts:

"Eddie boy, my name's Brown and I want to know just what you plan to do about the . . .

Now an even louder cry comes from the outer office:

"Ed, lines 4 and 5."

And on and on and on it goes for Fair Board Secreary Ed Schultz.

15-Hour Days

During State Fair week, such demands keep the tireless fair chief going at least 15 hours a day.

It isn't hard to spot Ed.

He's the fellow talking on the phone, signing papers, holding interviews and keeping 3 or 4 cigarets smouldering.

"It's been a long one," Ed sighs.

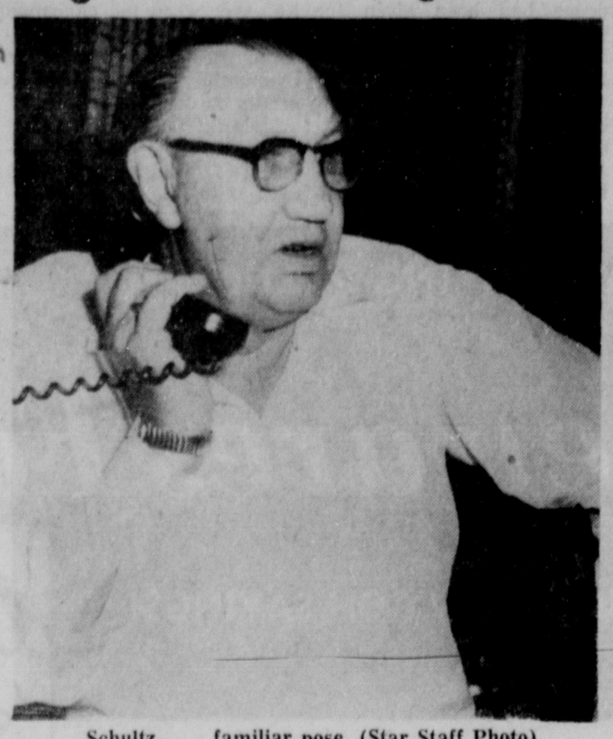

Schultz estimates he's met and talked business with at least 200 persons a day during the past grueling month.

Phones Busy

"And I've talked to at least twice that number on the phone about, the fair," he added.

Things at Shultz's office have been popping at this pace for over a month.

Wiping his wrinkled brow, Schultz said: "I'm always glad to see fairs come, but I'm more glad to see them go."

Schultz . . . familiar pose. (Star Staff Photo)

Old, Old Skeleton

Salisbury, Eng. (AP) — The skeleton of a child who lived 3,800 years ago, wearing an earring made from the tusk of a wild boar, was brought to light near Stonehenge. This is the great stone array of pillars where ancient Britons worshipped. Excavations directed by Miss E. V. W. Field of the British Ministry of Works also revealed 9 other skeletons buried under a raised mound that served as a funeral monument.

Substation Is Backed

The Board of Zoning Appeals Wednesday recommended approval for construction of a City Light Department power substation near 17th and Van Dorn.

No one appeared in opposition to the special permit for the substation to be built atop an abandoned water reservoir just north of Fire Station 8.

W. L. Bitney, city electrical engineer, said the substation is needed in this vicinity and would be screened by existing pine trees.

This and other board recommendations go to the City Council at its Sept. 19 meeting. Other recommendations:

—approval of the Nebraska Public Power System's request to relocate a 115,000-volt transmission line near West O and the Air Base road around the site of an Interstate Highway interchange.

—approval of the request of Silas R. Friesen of 2810 Washington for construction of a garage with waiver of rear yard requirements.

—approval of the request of Kermit F. Ackman of 3132 F to rebuild an existing garage.

—denial of the request of Marvin L. Kiser to add two units to an existing duplex at 2020 So. 14th.

—deferred the request of Mrs. D. G. Klein to extend the side and rear of an existing garage at 1117 Plum.

Stork Probably Couldn't Carry Cows This Year

Some sort of a record was broken at the Nebraska State Fair this year. There are no new babies in the 4-H dairy herd.

"This is the first time in at least 5 years, that no new calves have been born during State Fair," said P. H. Cole, assistant superintendant.

"We had high hopes that a Holstein cow exhibited by Richard Emken of Mead would maintain the record of a calf being born during State Fair. It looks now as if the cow will not have her calf during the big event," Cole said.

Earlier this week Emken won dairy showmanship honors when he exhibited the Holstein cow in the 4-H Dairy Show.

County Attorney Starts Extradition

The Lancaster County Attorney's office Wednesday started extradition procedings to return a 1956 State Penitentiary escapee to Nebraska from Pennsylvania.

Harry Wiand, 38, was serving a 2-year term for burglary of the Sidney Country Club when he escaped Aug. 15, 1956.

He was arrested in September of 1956 by Pennsylvania law officers on charges of rape, robbery, burglary and larceny, and is presently completing his sentence at a Pennsylvania prison at Montgomery, Pa.

He refused extradition back to Nebrask where he faces escape charges.

Extradition papers on Wiand have been sent to Gov. Brooks' office in the first step of extradition proceedings, according to Paul Douglas, chief deputy county attorney.

Easy Watching

London (UPI)—Bird watcher T. L. Bartlett stocked his back yard garden with dozens of caged birds and explained, "it's much easier to watch them in my own back yard than to go tramping through the woods."

Bing Changes Plans So He Can Attend Series

Hollywood (UPI)—Spokesmen for Bing Crosby said the crooner has cancelled plans to film a TV show in Ireland next month in favor of attending the World Series.

Crosby, who owns part interest in the Pittsburgh Pirates, said he will be in the Pennsylvania City Oct. 5, along with 3 of his 5 sons, for the series.

Currently in Rome for the Olympic games, the Old Groaner had planned to stop in Dublin, Ireland, to film a special St. Patrick's Day television program.

Edward T. Sickel Funeral Thursday

Funeral of Edward T. Sickel, 72, of 2930 Van Dorn, who died Tuesday will be 11 a.m. Thursday in Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

Mr. Sickel

Mr. Sickel was chairman of the board of the Lincoln Drug Company.

He became associated with the drug firm in 1928 when he moved to Lincoln, and became vice-president and general manager in 1938. He was elected chairman of the board of directors in 1955.

Ben Lyon Gives In

London (AP)—Ben Lyon, one-time Hollywood star who settled in Britain 24 years ago, is a real English type at last—he's bought a brolly. So ends a long campaign of resistance against that English institution, the umbrella, or gamp. Lyon, now a producer with a British television network, was beaten by one of the wettest summers on record.

Stocks Take Another Dip

New York (AP)— The stock market underlined post-labor Day uncertainty about business by declining sharply again Wednesday trading was moderate.

An estimated $3.25 billion in quoted values of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange was erased, based on the fall in the Associated Press average.

Key stocks throughout the list fell from fractions to 2 or 3 points. Some of the high flyers in electronics, photography and other growth fields were off much more sharply as profits were taken on gains of late summer. Texas Instruments was sold heavily and plummeted 10¼ points. Polaroid dropped 11.

The market was down from the start but losses were not too bad most of the session as trading proceeded quietly. In final dealings, however, a burst of selling accompanied by a late ticker tape knocked down prices to their lows of the session.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 4.88 to 612.27. Some analysts believed the Dow was heading for a "test" of the triple bottom established at roughly 600 in this indicator.

The AP 60-stock average fell 2.40 to 216.80, a shade less than the decline of 2.50 on Aug. 30. The industrials fell 4.30, the rails 1.40 to a new low for 1960 and the utilities .60.

Volume was 2.85 million shares compared with 2.58 million Tuesday.

American Stock Exchange prices declined on volume of 1.02 million shares compared with 1.12 million Tuesday.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mixed in quiet trading. Bond volume declined to $3.88 million from $4.06 million Tuesday.

LANCASTER CO. TAKES DAIRY GROUP HONORS

Lancaster County won top honors in county group competition in the 4-H Dairy Show at the Nebraska State Fair, according to P. H. Cole, assistant superintendent of the show.

The award is based on winnings obtained by animals exhibited by 4-H'ers in the respective counties. Lancaster County will be awarded a trophy and prize money by the Nebraska State Fair Board.

Purple ribbons won by these exhibitors resulted in Lancaster County winning the award:

Keith McKay with a Brown Swiss, Town & Country 4-H Club; Robert Wiechert with a Guernsey, Pioneer 4-H Club; Betty Broening with a Guernsey, Bennet Dairy 4-H Club; Sharon Maule with a Guernsey, Sunshine Dairy 4-H Club; Harriet Meyers with a Holstein, Rokeby 4-H Club; Kathleen Lux with a Jersey, Sunshine Dairy 4-H Club.

Duane Buss Tops Tractor Driving Prize

Duane Buss of Hastings Wednesday copped high honors in the 4-H Tractor Driving Contest held in connection with the Nebraska State Fair.

Buss edged out 27 other contestants in competition over a stiff course, said Delbert Lane, assistant superintendent in charge of the contest.

The Hastings lad had the least penalty points—564, followed by Richard Heitzman of Winnebago, with 736 points.

Last year Buss won a blue ribbon and also competed the year before.

Duane credited his project in the Barnyard 4-H Club of Adams County with helping him win the state honor.

A junior at Hastings High School, he plans to attend the College of Agriculture after graduation.

The tractor driving contest consisted of 4 parts: 1. a quiz on tractor safety and maintenance; 2. starting and warm-up procedure; 3. two-wheeled vehicle driving, and 4. 4-wheel vehicle driving.

The contestants were required to drive a serpentine course, back a tractor into a simulated shed, and negotiate a course having 3 12-foot gates. Any contact with objects in the course cost the contestants 100 penalty points.

Ribbon winners were:

Purple: Duane Buss, Hastings.
Blue: Richard Heitzman, Winnebago; Larry Filkins, Brunswick; Robert Engelkemier, Louisville; Richard Drueke, West Point; Duane Siems, DeWitt.

AYRSHIRE DAIRY CATTLE TOP PLACED TOLD

W. S. Watson, Hutchinson, Kan., walked away with 19 first-place Ayrshire Cattle Awards in the State Fair open class competition.

In addition to placing first in most of the categories of competition, Watson showed the Senior and Grand Champion Ayrshire Bull and Female, the Junion Champion Ayrshire Bull and was named Premier Exhibitor and Premier Breeder of the showing.

Nebraska Ayrshire breeders scoring wins in the show were Norma Jean Schroeder of Platte Center, Hans Kuhl of Herman and Jerome, David and Betty Macken of Platte Center.

Slaughter Mark Goes Down 9%

Livestock slaughtered commercially in Nebraska during July totaled 258,275,000 pounds live weight, down 9% from June and 7% under the July total last year, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Wednesday.

For the first 7 months of this year, however, the slaughter poundage has totaled 3% above that for the same period a year ago.

Slaughtered in July were 262,000 hogs, 180,000 cattle, 600 calves, and 68,500 sheep and lambs.
